Phones are what peoples' lives, in this day and age, revolve around. From the most private of details, to the most exclusive of news', from the most important e-mail, to the most redundant game- our phones now have it all and we love it! Not until did our phones becomes Smart, did we have such a fondness for them. So convenient, so fast- it's the whole world at the touch of your finger on the shiny, delicate screens. But there are secrets about this device that only its absence from your life will conceal. Read what it's like to spend a week without a Smartphone on pages 8 and 9.

3 DUELLING THE DILEMMA
