Chinese team visits DAP factory in Ctg

2nd Edition

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

A 12-member expert team from China yesterday visited DAP Fertiliser Company Ltd in Anwara upazila o Chittagong, where an ammonia gas tank exploded on August 22, leaving nearly 250 people sick and jeopardizing ecological balance.

A Chinese company built the 500-tonne capacity tank. The team will submit an assessment report to Bangladesh Chemical Industries Corporation (BCIC).

Meanwhile, Deputy Commissioner of Chittagong Mesbah Uddin yesterday told journalists that he received a letter from the ministry concerned to assess the extent of damage in the explosion and that he ordered Anwara's upazila nirbahi officer to file a report within two days.

"We have identified the persons responsible for the blast and our report is almost ready. We will urge the government to take punitive actions against them," said the DC, adding that those who incurred loss, including fish farmers and cattle owners, due to the gas leak would be compensated.

Ali Ahmed Khan, director general of Fire Service and Civil Defence, said faults were detected in the factory management in an inquiry and that there was also a lack of periodical maintenance and inspection. Contacted, BCIC Chairman Mohammed Iqbal said the inquiry committee has been formed to probe the cause of the elephant's death and its post mortem was conducted, writ petitioner Eunus Ali Akond told The Daily Star. The Indian elephant, named Bangabahadur, whose journey from India to Bangladesh was widely chronicled, died in Jamalpur on August 16. Eunus, also a Supreme Court lawyer, on August 18 filed the writ petition with the HC.

BCIC committee yesterday submitted an interim report.

The wild elephant fought against all odds, swam over 300km in rivers and moved frantically from one char to another in the Jamuna (Brahmaputra). He struggled to survive for 50 days. But in the end, he was tranquilised, chained and half buried in muddy water when he died.

before its approval, according to a press release. Mosharraf was speaking as the chief guest at a seminar "Determining the Sewage Treatment Method and Networking in Uttara Apartment Project". Public Works Department (PWD) and Rajdhani

Unnayan Kartripakkha (Rajuk) jointly organised the seminar at the conference room of the department. The minister said the Chittagong Development Authority (CDA), Khulna Development Authority (KDA), Rajshahi Development Authority (RDA), and Cox's Bazar Development Authority will have to take steps in this regard right now. Mosharraf said all the rivers around Dhaka were polluted due to a lack of proper waste management. He said the human excreta released from residential houses are directly going to drains, which is a hindrance to healthy environment. The minister said a place was earmarked in the Uttara flat project for setting up STP.

Prof Faruk Ahmed of Buet made a presentation on effectiveness of STP.

Rajuk chairman, PWD additional chief engineer, and Rajuk chief engineer (implementation) also spoke.
