Please Stop!

I don't know what's going on but our weather seems to be as fickle as people's opinions on social media. Like seriously, it keeps changing and has no signs of stopping.

I walked to the office under bright, sunny skies only to see them shrouded by gloomy clouds, moments later. In a single day, I've seen my news feed flooded with "Agka anak bristy hoica" type statuses to "Agka anak gorom porca". The variety was amusing, yes, but then it became a regular occurrence. Not to mention the fact that I've forgotten what it feels like to wake up without a heavy head and blocked sinuses. I wish there was a way my ceiling fan could adjust itself when it gets abnormally cold during dawn. I wish the weather would stop changing every second. Please. Stop. :(

THIS WEEK'S HORRORSCOPE

ARIES

If you sleep the entire Eid day, it's cool as long as you don't brag about it on Facebook.

TAURUS

Eid day can turn you into a cannibal when you have that delectable beef curry.

GEMINI

Beware of raging, escaping bulls chasing you on the road.

CANCER

Challenge the status quo by wearing red to the goru'r haat.

LEO

This Eid is all about sacrificing. How about you sacrifice that kebab and send it to us instead?

VIRGO

"Bhai, koto nise?"

LIBRA

Let's have a competition, you and I – who can gain more weight this Eid vacation?

SCORPIO

Speeding on the empty roads during the Eid vacation may not be such a good idea.

SAGITTARIUS

Butchers don't come cheap this days.

CAPRICORN

What if Gordon Ramsay doesn't approve your kacchi biriyani?

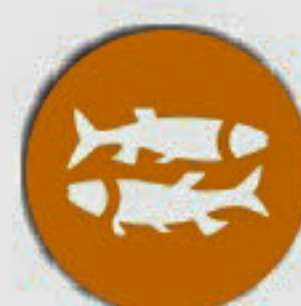

AQUARIUS

Your job is to clean the roads, wannabe Aquaman.

PISCES

You will be forgotten for the next few weeks.

APP REVIEW

For the MANGA Artist in You

SALMA MOHAMMAD ALI

Draw Manga teaches you to draw manga characters. The characters or models are categorised as Chibi, Girl, Boy and Other. There are around 6-8 different characters in each category. Tapping on one shows you a step by step drawing tutorial, starting from pencil outlines to finishing touches and colour. A number on the top shows your progress. You can go back in case you missed a detail, or go forward, by tapping on arrows. Each step is drawn in different colours so it isn't clumsy and you won't mix up steps. Bear in mind that you don't draw in the app itself, rather copy the steps shown elsewhere, which was perfect for me as I wanted to draw on paper.

There are also separate lessons on specific features that you may have trouble drawing - eyes, hands, silhouette, dynamic and faces, which also come with simple yet effective step by step guidelines.

There's a "create your character" option but all it says for now is that it's "coming soon." Unfortunately not all the characters are unlocked and you have to buy them to view the tutorials. A few more unlocked characters would've been great.

Draw Manga is actually helpful and fun to use, unlike other similar apps that only show you videos of tutorials. If you're a beginner aiming to improve at drawing manga characters or just someone dabbling in the art, this app is a must-install.
