NICOLAS CAGE

Honoured Twice at Oldenburg Film Festival

Veteran actor Nicolas Cage received a lifetime achievement award and a star on the walk of fame at Oldenburg Film Festival. The "Leaving Las Vegas" star shared the honourable lifetime achievement with indie veteran Amanda Plummer. Cage, who is a Hollywood veteran, was surprised to be included in this festival and to win at Oldenburg as it focuses completely on independent films. The festival is deemed as Germany's leading indie film festival, and considered as the German Sundance due to its word-of-mouth publicity.

Nicolas Cage's films have grossed upwards $4.7 billion worldwide. The actor was last seen in epic-action adventure film "USS Indianapolis: Men of Courage".
