

Mohammed Abdullah, known to many as ABD, is a poet and a professional rap artist. Besides the several compositions released with the producer and musician Adit Rahman, ABD has poetry, expressions and rap-poetry all stored up on Soundcloud, where he shares words on humanity, wars, relationships and the irony of life. Recently, ABD also worked closely with the team on Wind of Change -- a unique musical project. He takes out a minute to speak the Star Weekend team.

If you could take three things to a deserted island, what would they be?

Books, Portable music player with unlimited batteries and music.

Your favourite rapper?

Too many but Nas, Guru (Gangstarr) and Immortal Technique come to mind!

What do you usually talk (rap) about?

The human condition

What book are you reading right now?

Kurt Vonnegut's 'Slaughterhouse Five'.

Write a 2-line poem about the Wind of Change.

'Fly away baby get rid of this cage,
Spread your wings in the wind of change!'

What is your motto in life?

You get what you give, don't forget but forgive.

A word of advice for the young folk trying to get into rapping professionally.

Don't just be yourself, be for others as well.

— ELITA KARIM
PHOTO: COURTESY

আরো উন্নত ও সম্পূর্ণ প্রাকৃতিক
Sandal Wood Oil এর মৌরভে

স্যান্ডালিনা
স্যান্ডাল সোপ

রূপচর্চায় আন্ডিজাত্য...