People walk towards Farmgate from Shahbagh of the capital yesterday after the road was nearly shut to the public because of Awami League's 20th national council. Many other roads leading to the venue, Suhrawardy Udyan, were made off-limits to public transport as well.

to silence the Awami League."

He said a myriad of conspiracies were hatched to destroy the AL. The conspirators killed Bangabandhu, the four national leaders and hundreds of party leaders but could not destroy the party, he added.

"They will never be able to do so," he said, adding that there was no scope for the AL to perish even if Hasina was not there and that as long as she was alive, Hasina would lead the party.

Syed Ashrafur said he ran the party as general secretary with advice from the party president and the party did not witness any split during his tenure.

"I am a product of Awami League. I was born in an Awami League family. When Awami League gets hurt, it hurts my heart. If any Awami League worker is hurt, I can feel the pain," he said.

"How do I feel this? ...my blood and that of those who have come here are the same. There is no difference....," he added.

Terming the party chief, councillors, delegates and men of the party across the country as heirs of the martyrs' blood, he said, "Our blood is pure and tested."

He said the AL was not comparable to any other political party in the world in terms of the sacrifice made for the country and its people.

Stating that the AL is moving forward under Hasina's leadership, Syed Ashrafur called upon the members of the party to strengthen it.

Lipu returned to the campus on Tuesday afternoon from his village in Jhenidah's Harinakundu and signed for the second-year final exams, which were supposed to start on November 2.

His mother Hosne Ara Begum said Lipu had talked to her Wednesday, the day before his death, using a friend's phone after he returned to his room at the hall. A murder case was filed with Motihar Police Station on Thursday, against unidentified people.

Meanwhile, demanding a fair investigation, around 300 students and teachers of the university rallied in front of the mass communication and journalism department yesterday.

correspondent of the online news portal www.bdnews24.com, as he along with other campus journalists rescued a young woman and held her abductor, according to witnesses. The BCL men also took away the abductor identified as Golam Sarwar. Shafiqul is a fourth-year student of the department of Journalism and Media Studies and an assistant general secretary of JU unit Students Union.

Yesterday, the authorities gave a written complaint to Baizid Islam, a final-year botany student, for being involved in the June 4 incident. On the other hand, JU unit Students Union in a press release criticised the punishment as only two BCL men, Laskar and Riyajul, out of 12 BCL, were punished for the June 8 incident.

common people at the grassroots level, it will be easier for them to aware the people about road accidents,' he said.
"It is the duty of politicians, social workers and peoples' representatives to ensure road safety. It is their duty to protect people from being killed on roads," added Ilias.
Government statistics claim that around 3,000 people die annually in road accidents, while the World Health Organization (WHO) estimates that more than 21,000 people die in road crashes every year in the country.
