Get prepared to win next national polls

Hasina tells her party men

STAR REPORT
 Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina yesterday instructed her party's grassroots leaders to make preparations for winning the parliamentary elections for the third time in a row. "To maintain the current pace of development, Awami League has to win for the third term. So, from now on you will have to make all-out preparations for that," Hasina told AL councillors during the second and final day of the party's triennial national council at the Institution of Engineers, Bangladesh in the capital. Hasina, who was reelected as the party's president for the eighth consecutive term yesterday, said AL leaders and activists should go to the doorsteps of the voters in their respective areas and project the current government successes before them, reports BSS. "If Awami League wants to retain power, we've to convince the people that the country's socio-economic development needs to..."
