

Deadpool Director Tim Miller Exits Sequel

Tim Miller recently announced that he will not be returning to direct the sequel to "Deadpool". The decision came out due to creative differences between the director and star of the film Ryan Reynolds. The split was however, amicable. Miller's directorial debut "Deadpool" was the biggest hit of the year with a whopping $786 million earnings worldwide after opening on Valentine's Day this year. It is the seventh highest grossing movie of 2016 and the highest grossing R-rated film ever on worldwide basis.

Miller was a former visual effects specialist and an animator.

Source: Variety

VIDYA BALAN SET FOR "AAMI"

Vidya Balan is all set to star in the upcoming biopic based on Madhavikutty's life titled "Aami". Also starring in the film are Murali Gopi, who will be playing the role of the husband, and Anoop Mehra, who will be playing a pivotal character in the movie. The bilingual movie is expected to be an unconventional one, having both real occurrences on the life of the litterateur that took place, as well as adapted fiction. The shooting for the film is scheduled to start in October.

The actress was previously seen in Amitabh Bachchan starrer "Te3n" and will be seen in the upcoming film "Kahaani 2".

Source: India Glitz

John Abraham Set for "Force 2"

Actor John Abraham is all set for the sequel to 2011 action-thriller "Force". John will reinstate his role as ACP Yashvardhan and will now be on a dangerous mission of saving the RAW agents of India who are under attack. Sonakshi Sinha will join him in the film, portraying the role of a co-RAW agent. Also starring in the film is Tahir Raj Bhasin, who will be playing a negative role. The film is slated for release on November 18.

The actor mentioned that he plans to turn "Force" into a franchise and that the third instalment "Force 3" is inevitable. The actor was last seen in this year's action-comedy "Dishoom", alongside Varun Dhawan.

Source: Bollywood Hungama

