For over four decades, the Bangladesh Shilpakala Academy has been serving as the biggest cultural hub for art enthusiasts, music aficionados, film connoisseurs or dance lovers. Be it looking out for lesser known artists and bringing them in the limelight or preserving under-appreciated and almost extinct folk art forms, BSA has always been prompt in ensuring that the various cultural forms of the country are given the best platform and wide reaching attention. Whether by holding the biggest art biennale or theatre fest, or organising workshops, seminars, discussions and cultural movements, the BSA has always been the place to go to. Turn to page 8 and 9 to learn more about some of the Academy's most spectacular ongoing projects.
