Cut migration cost for workers

Warbe workshop told STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Migration cost for the workers must be reduced and the government should focus on their safety and rights, said participants at a workshop yesterday.

Warbe Development Foundation, which works for migrant workers' welfare, organised the workshop in the capitals Cirdap auditorium for the civil society to help them present migrant workers' problems in a global forum, to be held on December 8-10.

"Migrant workers' right, social safety and economic safety must be ensured to achieve the SDG goal," said Rahnuma Salam Khan, national programme officer of International Labour Organization (ILO).

"These workers not only help their own country, but also contribute to the migrated one's development. We must reduce the cost of migration for them," she said.

Syed Saiful Haque, chairman of Warbe, said, "Bilateral treaties between the countries must be ensured so that migration of workers remains hassle free."

He also emphasised on lowering the migration

MD Jabed Ahmed, additional secretary to the Ministry of Expatriates' Welfare and Overseas Employment; Kazi Abul Kalam, member of National Curriculum and Textbook Board; and Syed Mahbubul Elahi, an NGO official, also spoke. Bangladesh will chair the 9th global forum for the first time in Dhaka where representatives from 150 countries will participate.

Form commission for complaints, action

Discussants demand in Ctg

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

Three teachers, a journalist and a rights activist yesterday demanded formulation of a "Bangladesh Religious and Ethnic Minorities Commission" with which people of minority communities can lodge complaints and whose recommendations can be implemented by the government.

Premier University Vice Chancellor Dr Anupam Sen, activist Mustari Shafi, journalist Abul Momen and Prof Moinul Islam and Prof Ranjit Dey of Chittagong University also placed 10 demands organising a press conference at Chittagong Press Club.

Bangladesh), was in protest of recent election and to turn sour friendly attacks on minority communities around the country, including on Hindu houses and temples in Brahmanbaria's Nasirnagar on October 30.

The organisers accused BNP, Jamaat-e-Islami, Ahle Sunnat Wal Jamaat and Hefajat-e Islam of carrying out the attack, which they termed a crime against humanity.

The present government has taken a firm stance against militancy and fundamentalist forces and is holding the trial of war criminals and the minority communities supported this, they said.

They suspected that the recent attacks might be a ploy to drive away the Hindu community so The programme, under the banner that the Awami League gets a "Jege Otho Bangladesh" (rise up lower number of votes in the next relations with India.

The organisers urged quick trial of perpetrators through special tribunals and raising a social movement spreading the non-communal spirit of the Liberation War and science-based education among police, administrations and students.

They demanded formulating a law to stop the practice of criticising and demeaning religions at congregations and publishing a probe report on the number of people affected and to have left the country afterwards and the extent of losses in attacks till date.

They also sought formulation of a "National Education and Cultural Policy" to build a peaceful and friendly society sans discrimination based on caste, creed, race and

No place for opportunists in AL

Warns AL General Secretary Obaidul Quader at Ctg rally STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

Awami League (AL) General Secretary and Road Transport and Bridges Minister Obaidul Quader at a rally in Chittagong yesterday said those who would tarnish the party's image by breaking its discipline would not be spared.

Chittagong city and north and south district units of AL organised it at the city's Laldighi Maidan to accord a reception to the newly included leaders of Chittagong in the party's central committee.

"We will identify those few people," he said, adding, "There is no place for the opportunists (Bosonter Kokil) in the party."

Earlier, when AL presidium member and Housing and Public Works Minister Engr Mosharraf Hossain was delivering a speech, a section of activists started hurling chairs at each other, creating a panic that endured up to around 15 minutes. Later, the situation was brought under control.

Pointing at them, Mosharraf said there is no place for the discipline breakers in the AL.

Later, Quader also warned them. He also criticised BNP, alleging that the BNP leaders, instead of depending on people, depend on foreign countries to get back to power.

Meanwhile, people of the city had to suffer due to long tailbacks in the afternoon as activists from almost all upazilas of the port city thronged the veune.

AL joint general secretaries Dipu Moni and Mahbubul Alam Hanif also spoke with AL Chittagong city unit president ABM Mohiuddin Chowdhury in the chair.

Surya Akter, a skill development specialist of Underprivileged Children's Education Programme (UCEP), said inadequate transport facilities for the challenged people was another barrier to their education or skill development training.

Echoing Surya, the mother of a challenged child Ayesha Parvin Kanta said, "Transport cost becomes triple when I bring my kid to school as most of the vehicles do not want to carry us and the vehicles are not friendly to the challenged people as well."

"The disabled people will be able to do something, if they get good transport facility to travel outside for doing their works," she said.

Salahuddin Kasem Khan, president of Bangladesh Employers Federation, said the government would have to fill up its 10 percent job quota for the challenged people and this would increase their employment opportunities. "If any institution fails to do so, they will have to be held accountable by the labour ministry," he said, adding that providing any job to a challenged person was not charity rather it was a responsibility. Speaking as the chief guest, State Minister for Labour and Employment Mujibul Haque said the government was aware of the employment issue of the challenged persons and the ministry would soon allocate some money from its welfare fund to support these people.

Kishore Kumar Singh, a skill development specialist of International Labour Organization; Mizanur Rahman, director (Vocational) at the Directorate of Technical Education; Mohammad Rezaul Karim, a director of National Skills Development Council; and Asgar Ali Sabri, director of Programme, Policy and Campaign at ActionAid, also spoke at the programme.
