

SAIF

Picks Karan

Sara Ali Khan, daughter of Saif Ali Khan, has been in numerous rumors surrounding her launch in Bollywood. Previously she was rumored to be casted opposite to Hrithik Roshan, however the rumors turned up to be baseless. Saif Ali, letting the cat out of the bag, revealed that her daughter will be taken under the wing of Karan Johar. Saif has admitted in a portal that he is happy to see Sara getting her big break from Laran. If rumors are true this time, then Sara is likely to be featured in Karan's "Student Of The Year 2" opposite to Tiger Shroff.

Source: Internet

K-JO LOST KAJOL AS A FRIEND?

Karan in recent interviews has revealed that his friendship with Kajol had taken a toll, causing a vast difference amongst them in the last few years. The cold war seems to have began from rumors that Karan and the Devgan family seems to be harboring. The initiation was during the release of "Ae Dil Hae Mushkil" and "Shivaay" when both of the dates collided. Other than the date issue Karan Johar was accused to have paid Rs 25 lakhs to sabotage "Shivaay" by Ajay. Kajol has also added salt to the wounds of Karan when she tweeted, "Shocked! That's when I knew it was completely over for me." It was after this that Karan mentioned in his biography that he was extremely pained and hurt.

Source: Internet

NO SUPPORT FROM THE INDUSTRY

With an increasing number of Bollywood artists coming forward to reveal how the industry has a clear discrimination against actors not belonging to influential families, Aditi Rao Hydari shares her two cents to "Bombay Times" on that very matter. In the interview, the actress revealed, "I've not had any support in the industry but I'm not saying that with a sense of regret, anger or bitterness. It's a fact." The actress is currently busy shooting for "Bhoomi" alongside Sanjay Dutt. Previously, Huma Qureshi has also spoken on how her journey was solo and lacked the help of any influential support.

Source: Internet

