

CHECK IT OUT

For the perfect bridal look at Woman's World

Wedding is a big event, and in Bangladesh, it is split into several ceremonies. For the newly married couple, the events pose the important question of what to wear and what overall look to flaunt.

For the concerned brides, here are some basic tips that might come handy in planning your look for three of the important functions of a wedding.

Holud

It is celebrated with much pomp and gusto. For relatives to close friends, the 'gaye holud' programme offers the perfect opportunity to express the love and well wishes for the couple.

With meticulous hairstyling, those perfect eyebrows and smoky gorgeous eyes, rosy cheeks and bright red smile on the lips, the holud ceremony provides ample opportunities to make sure you shine!

Sangeet

We all have different preferences regarding how we want to look. Many of us sport the dramatic look with winged eyes and different shades of red for the lips - from the classic to the vamp red.

Alternatively, you may flaunt your funky side with glittery eyes, shimmering cheeks and vibrant lips. Sangeet is the function where women really do enjoy doing little experiment with their look.

The Wedding

It is the most important day in a person's life. And a stunning bridal look ensures that you're bringing your A-game. The overall look, of course depends on the bride's dress, and generally speaking, should complement the colour she is wearing. Rather than basic contouring, some golden sheen to the skin, matte and subtle colours or even shimmering eyelids along with curled lashes and understated highlights can help enhance the glow from within - some basics of an elegant bridal look!
