

PAY ME AFTER YOU READ THIS

Inspiration is a spark; an idea that does not let you sleep or eat. Motivation picks you up from the couch and puts you into motion, a drive. In simpler terms, inspiration is a "thinker" whereas motivation is a "doer".

Often we hear questions like "Who is your inspiration?" or "What motivates you?" The answers are usually a relative/friend's name or a celebrity who's done big things; sometimes it's an activity that leads to achievements. As a result, if that person or activity ceases to exist, you would not be inspired or motivated anymore. Oh, but you do.

See, call it inspiration or motivation or whatever that makes you dream big and walk that extra mile to realise that dream? It's all in you.
