

gadgets without interrupting hang out sessions. There are also tuk-tuks to help you get to the further away cottages. Ah, the comforts!

The dining area is quite large and well decorated. There are many types of delicious cuisines—Bengali, English, Chinese, Mexican, Italian, and Indian. There are a plethora of juices and fruits on offer too. Everyone can have whatever they want. Food is always a concern while on trips and we know that being in the fresh air, especially by the rivers and the sea, usually increases our appetites manifold. Another great thing is that you can order food wherever you are sitting, and the food will find you, from 7AM to even 12AM at night. You can check the resort's Facebook page and website to know pricing details.

There are two play areas for children, one by the sea and the other in the middle of the resort. There are also bicycles for people of all ages, to take rides by the sea as and when you wish.

There are also kayaks, beach cars, and small dinghy boats. The security system is also good. You can enjoy the spot exactly how you want, laze around, be active, run around on the sandbars, or simply soak in the beauty of nature—but you won't miss out!
