

Ian Somerhalder And Nikki Reed ARE EXPECTING THEIR FIRST CHILD!

Ian Somerhalder and Nikki Reed recently took to Instagram to announce the good news: Nikki is pregnant! Both posted matching photos along with heartfelt messages for their unborn child and each other. The couple tied the knot back in April 2015. They also celebrated their 2nd anniversary this year by sharing photos and videos with their fans. Ian admitted that they kept the news of Nikki's pregnancy under wraps as they wanted to spend this special time just amongst themselves for as long as possible. The couple still seems to be reeling from marital bliss! Previously, Ian Somerhalder dated his "Vampire Diaries" co-star Nina Dobrev and it was speculated that the reason why Nina left the show was because of Ian's relationship with Nikki Reed. However, Ian and Nikki prove that true love still exists and we congratulate them for entering this new phase in their life.

Kriti Sanon scared of Kajol?

It isn't unusual for a newcomer to be jittery and nervous around superstars like Shahrukh Khan and Kajol. So it only made sense when Kriti admitted in a recent interview that she was very nervous about working with her Dilwale co-stars Shahrukh Khan and Kajol. But she also claimed that she was more scared of Kajol as she has already spent some time with Shahrukh Khan prior to the starting of the shoot and was quite comfortable with him. Despite this, once the shoot started, Kriti became relaxed around Kajol as well. She also went on to praise Kajol saying that Kajol was really nice to her and gave her many tips regarding acting and improvising.

KENDALL JENNER faces backlash, again!

Kendall Jenner recently did a photo shoot in Jaipur along with Sushant Singh for the Collector's Edition Issue of Vogue India for their 10th anniversary. She was also featured on the cover of the magazine. However, as soon as the photos were published, Vogue India suffered a substantial outrage from the people. Many Indians were extremely offended that they chose an American model to feature on the cover for Vogue India. People felt that Indian models do not get enough opportunities in the modeling world as it is, and a magazine that has the name 'India' in its title should definitely have gone with an Indian model for their cover shoot. Yet again, in the midst of outrage against the magazine, Jenner has fallen victim to hate by association. 2017 really doesn't seem to be Kendall Jenner's year!
