Kay Kraft's Eid collection

Kay Kraft has a reputation for creating different, new and innovative panjabis for Eid. Panjabis of white, black, shades of brown, ash, blue, green, and maroon have been created using machine embroidery, tie-dye, screen-print and karchupi. In cottons, innovation has been brought in two-tone, textured and striped styles. Motifs, composition, and layout have been completed with a touch of distinction.

Gowns, long and short kurtis, two-part kurtis, long and medium coatees, tops, shalwar kameezes, etc have been designed with times and trends in mind.

The Eid collection as a whole has drawn inspiration from the Mughal era, apparent in their style. From attires to jewellery, Kay Kraft's Eid collection reflects that, along with a festive look for the occasion of Eid too. The ensemble also has matching attires for duos and the family.
