

BEYONCÉ CELEBRATES MOTHER'S DAY

The countdown for the birth of Beyoncé's twins has already begun. While expecting the new additions to her family, Beyoncé shared a Mother's Day celebration picture on Instagram recently. In the picture, Beyoncé and her daughter are both wearing matching dresses by Dolce and Gabbana during their visit to the Museum of Ice Cream in LA. Beyoncé's dress supposedly cost a whopping $5395! And this isn't even the first time she was spotted wearing designer clothes during her pregnancy with the twins. The visit to the museum also included Tina Knowles and Jay-Z. The family played together in the iconic life-size sprinkle pool, ate gummy bears and went on swings. What a beautiful family and very soon there will be two more additions which we can't wait for!

Source: Internet

Katy Perry's "Swish Swish" directed at Taylor Swift?

The alleged 'bad blood' continues! For years it has been rumoured that there was a feud going on between Katy Perry and Taylor Swift. These rumours were further ignited when Taylor Swift released "Bad Blood" back in 2014. Although Taylor never confirmed that the song was about Perry, according to fans there were numerous clues hidden in the lyrics regarding the target. The same is being said about Perry's new single "Swish Swish". Fans believe that the inclusion of Nicki Minaj in the music video, subtle hints hidden in the lyrics and some visuals, are all directed at Swift. Interestingly enough, both the leading ladies shared a boyfriend as well, John Mayer. Now, whether their feud started due to jealousy over a man or just out of rivalry, who knows! But this can be said with certainty that some really remarkable songs came out of this feud!

Source: Internet