

ARJUN KAPOOR AND PARINEETI CHOPRA PAIRED ONCE AGAIN!

Anyone who remembers the 2012 film "Ishaqzaade" will definitely remember the on-screen couple of Arjun Kapoor and Parineeti Chopra. Five years later, fans are expected to see them return once again as a pair, in Dibakar Banerjee's upcoming action-romance film. Not much about the film has been revealed yet, but it has been said that Arjun's character will be a cop. Despite the lack of revelation, the hype that has been generated is real, as fans have been eagerly awaiting these two stars to pair up once again in a romantic setting. We can't help but raise our expectations.

.....
Source: Internet

Emmy Rossum Ties The Knot!

Emmy Rossum, the cheerful actress famous for her role as Fiona Gallagher in the hit TV drama "Shameless", has finally tied the knot. She didn't stray too far from the TV drama line, as her spouse is none other than the creator of the other hit TV show "Mr. Robot", Sam Esmail. They have been dating for about 4 years, and their relationship is rumored to have begun when Rossum was chosen to act in Esmail's film "Comet". They got engaged in 2015 and the marriage ceremony took place in New York City. Here's hoping to a long and happy married life for the newly wedded couple!

.....
Source: Internet

Selena Gomez & The Weeknd not collaborating!

The new favorite celebrity couple of Selena Gomez and The Weeknd have been filling up everyone's newsfeed for the past few weeks. Among the several rumors circling them, one particular buzz was about the songwriter Max Martin's Wikipedia page stating that Selena's upcoming single "In Her Element" would be featuring The Weeknd. However, in a recent radio interview Selena Gomez has directly stated that this was not the case. "No, no we are not," was what she said when asked about the possible collaboration. Certainly, a lot of fans' hearts were broken by this news, but we are still keeping our hopes up!

.....
Source: Internet