Keep a close watch on voter update

BNP asks its grassroots
 MOHAMMAD AL-MASUM MOLLA

The BNP has asked its grassroots leaders to keep a close watch on the upcoming process of updating voter list and also to inform the party high command if they find any problem with delimitation of constituencies. The party sent copies of a letter to the district and city unit leaders in the last two days, giving them instructions in this regard, said BNP Assistant Office Secretary Tayeful Islam Tipu. The BNP made the move to make sure none of its leaders and activists was left off the voter's roll. According to the draft roadmap of the Election Commission, it will start updating the list in September. Some BNP leaders alleged that a good number of party leaders and

Fear and frenzy on waterways

Unfit, unregistered vessels still a concern; owners go for last-minute overhaul of their launches
 TUHIN SHUBHRA ADHIKARY

With Eid holidays barely two weeks away, the country's water transport sector is getting ready for the peak season of their business. However, nearly half of the registered vessels opted out of the mandatory fitness test with thousands of unregistered vessels still taking to the waters, according to industry experts. The continued operation of faulty, unfit and unregistered vessels has become a serious cause for concern for the thousands of people who will travel through the waterways during this period. Ahead of the Eid vacation, launch owners could be seen refurbishing their vessels. They said that they are doing these "regular works" to attract passengers and claimed all of the vessels have fitness certificates. But experts and activists questioned the timing of the refurbishment work and the means of getting fitness certificates. Visiting several dockyards in Keraniganj, on the bank of Buriganga, on June 10, this correspondent found over a dozen launches undergoing refurbishment, apparently to give a new look to them to attract passengers. Some of the workers were doing welding works while some were painting the bodies of the launches and some others were setting furniture.

UK PM faces tough questions on Brexit

May forms new cabinet as govt to delay Queen's speech amid political turmoil
 AFP, London

British Prime Minister Theresa May's future was hanging in the balance yesterday as she prepared for a showdown with angry MPs from her Conservative party following its disastrous performance in last week's election. May's Conservatives unexpectedly lost their majority in parliament in Thursday's snap vote, causing political chaos ahead of Brexit talks with the European Union set to start next week. She was due to face MPs later yesterday, where she could face more demands to quit over her lacklustre campaign and decision
