Government's silence

South Asians for Human Rights; Asia Pacific Forum on Women, Law and Development; Association for Progressive Communications, and International Service for Human Rights.

The organisations also urged the government to openly and unequivocally condemn Hefajat's statement and threats against the rights activist.

Hefajat's threat came after a recent television talk show. Hosted by DU teacher Robert Ferdous, the programme was participated by Sultana Kamal, Hefajat leader Mufi Shakhawat Hossain, Gonojagor Manicha spokesperson Imran H Sarker, and former Awami League lawyer Apu Ulki.

At the talk show, referring to the statue of Lady Justice on the Supreme Court premises, Shakhawat said there should be no religious structures on the court premises. Sultana told The Daily Star, "I said, yes, I agree with you. There should be no religious structures on the court premises. Not even mosques," she said.

Later, Hefajat leaders from a rally in front of Baitul Mukarram gave an ultimatum to the government to arrest Sultana Kamal within 24 hours or send her into exile.

In a statement issued yesterday, PEN Bangladesh Centre also condemned the threat against the prominent lawyer and demanded that the government ensure her safety.
