Bengal foundation pays tribute to SUDHIN DAS and KARUNAMAYA GOSWAMI

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Bengal Foundation organised a memorial programme on eminent music exponents, teachers and researchers -- Sudhin Das and Karunamaya Goswami -- at the main auditorium of Chhayana on July 11. Luva Nahid Choudhury, DG, Bengal Foundation, delivered the welcome address elaborating on the life and works of the pioneer Tagore and Nazrul exponent duo. She also hosted the event that featured a discussion and musical programme.

Kamal Lohani, veteran cultural personality and journalist, said, "Sudhin Das, with his merit and labour, dedicated his entire life to formulate Nazrul Sangeet swaralipi. This is an important work that will continue to guide the Nazrul Sangeet artists in the days ahead. He would perform not only Nazrul Sangeet but also Rabindra Sangeet and ganosangeet."

Abul Hasnat, editor of Kali O Kalam, said, "Music was the favourite subject of Dr. Karunamaya Goswami, who would practise, conduct research and write many books on music. His book 'Sangeet Kosh' has become an inseparable lexicon of music loving society. He was a litterateur, teacher, and a catalyst of bringing about a silent cultural movement."

Eminent artist Syed Jahangir also spoke at the event sharing his personal memories of Sudhin Das.

A musical programme followed where Mafizur Rahman, Nasima Shaheen, Iqbal Suman, Laisa Ahmed Lisa and Khairul Anam Shakil rendered songs, composed by Kazi Nazrul Islam and Rabindranath Tagore.

Mafizur Rahman's beautiful rendition of the song "Jhoro Jhoro Bari Jhore Ambor Byapiya" was evocative of the monsoon season. Nasima Shaheen's presentation of the number "SaNjher Pakhira Phirilo Kulaye" evoked the pain of a pining heart. Laisa Ahmed Lisa immersed in the melody of a baitalik song "Dhaye Jeno Mor Shokol Bhalobasha" that was suggestive of a spiritual quest with the ultimate. Melancholia reigned supreme in the rendition of Khairul Anam Shakil's presentation of the song "Tumi Jotoi Dohona Dukher Anoley". The singers, apart from offering their musical tributes, shared their fond memories with the departed souls.

SUICIDE SQUAD 2 finds a director

"The Shallows" helmer Jaume Collet-Serra is the front-runner to direct Warner Bros.' "Suicide Squad" sequel starring Will Smith and Margot Robbie. David Ayer directed the last super-villain film, which was a huge hit for WB despite negative reviews, bringing in more than $700 million at the box office. This time around, the studio wanted a new person behind the camera and considered several possibilities including Mel Gibson.

It's unknown when the DC Comics project would shoot, given the ensemble's busy schedule, including Smith who is already attached to shoot Ang Lee's "Gemini Man" and Disney's "Aladdin", for which he will voice the Genie.

Collet-Serra is in high demand, as Annapurna just attached him to direct the thriller "Waco" and he recently finished work on the Liam Neeson action film "The Commuter". His earlier credits include "Non-Stop", "Unknown" and "Run All Night".

Nawazuddin is back in "Babumoshai Bandoobaaaz" trailer

Fans of versatile actor Nawazuddin Siddiqui can rejoice as the first trailer of Kushan Nandy's "Babumoshai Bandoobaaaz" sees the 43-year-old churn out some major acting chops to essay the title role.

The film's official trailer dropped online on Tuesday afternoon, which sees the story unfold, reports Times of India. It is an unusual story about a small town contract killer, Babu, played by Siddiqui. His position and reputation are at stake when a rival, Banke, comes into the picture. With the contracts to kill the same three people, they decide whoever kills more, claims the number one spot. However, what they do not know is that another game is being played, and Babu needs to make sure he is neither a target nor a pawn.

His antics are the highlight of the trailer that also features Divya Dutta, Bidita Bag, Murli Sharma, Jatin Goswami, Shraddha Das, Anil George, Jeetu Shihare and Bhagwan Tiwari. The film was shot majorly in Lucknow.

"Babumoshai Bandoobaaaz" hits cinemas on August 25.

Selena Gomez teases new song

The social-media hype around Selena Gomez's upcoming Gucci Mane-featuring single "Fetish" continues with a new snippet, unveiled on the pop star's Twitter on Tuesday. But unlike the track's previous teasers, this one finally includes part of the song's audio.

A new 16-second clip offered fans a close-up of Gomez's heavily glossed lips as she sings what is probably part of the highly anticipated track:

"Take it or leave it/ Baby take it or leave it/ But I know you won't leave it/ Because I know that you need it/ Look in the mirror/ Now look in the mirror/ Baby, I see it clearer/ Why you want to be nearer," the 24-year-old croons.

After dropping a string of teasers for the track, including a video preview shot in a suburban neighborhood and images of Gomez wielding grocery bags next to a broken-down car, "Fetish" is set for release Friday.
