

COVER STORY

Breeze, Blues, and Joy

Which breeze intoxicated my thoughts my heart sways in joy with no reasons
from my heart skies ripe dense clouds fresh drops of sweet nectar rain

— Rabindranath Tagore

A lazy evening on a rainy day can sometimes dampen the moods. It is very natural to feel groggy and depressed. Wondering how such a romantic weather can ever trigger the emotional blues? Never mind! The reflection is time consuming and not worth the chase, especially when we have the opportunity to beat it, at the roots. Or is it?
