

Kate Goes Floral At Wimbledon

Kate Middleton and Prince William were spotted at the 'Wimbledon Men's Single Finals' match to watch Roger Federer play Marin Cilic. The Duchess looked absolutely ethereal in a white floral-printed short-sleeved dress by Catherine Walker & Co which featured poppies, daisies and cornflowers. Kate's sister was also there with the rest of their family. Pippa Middleton also wore a similar floral-printed dress. Kate recently admitted in a documentary about Wimbledon that she loves the tennis tournament. She said in a recent interview, "Every time Wimbledon is on I think that I could do the same and get the racket out." She continued, "Sadly, I never the same results." She also admitted that her mother has a rather cute crush on Roger Federer!

Source: Internet

DISNEY'S New Aladdin and Jasmine

After auditioning almost 2000 actors and actresses, Disney has finally chosen a new Aladdin and Princess Jasmine along with the friendly Genie. Disney has cast Naomi Scott, Mena Massoud and Will Smith for each of the roles respectively. For those of you who don't know, Naomi Scott most recently played the Pink Ranger in Power Rangers.

Disney seemed to be having a lot of trouble finding the perfect actor for Aladdin but sounds like things have finally worked out. The original animated film was the highest grossing film in 1992 and even won two Oscars. This live action reboot of Aladdin is, without a doubt, very anticipated. We can't wait to see the magic they create onscreen again!

Source: Internet

