

TEACHER-STUDENT SCUFFLE

Left-leaning students demand Ducsu polls

Place 4-point demand at press conference

DU CORRESPONDENT

A group of left-leaning students, who were in the Saturday's incident of a scuffle between teachers and students on senate building premises, yesterday announced a four-point demand including immediate holding of Dhaka University Central Students Union (Ducsu) election.

Other demands include punishment for those who attacked students and removal of assistant proctor Rabiul Islam who allegedly led the scuffle.

The demands were made at a press conference at the university's Madhur Canteen yesterday noon.

The protesters also questioned the neutrality of the investigation committee formed on Sunday by the DU authorities to investigate the incident and demanded inclusion of student representatives in the probe body.

While reading out the statement, Masud Al Mahdi, coordinator of the protest, said, "The students are being deprived of their due rights because of the dysfunctional Ducsu and the absence of student representatives in Senate."

Denying the allegations of attacking teachers, he said, "When we attempted to enter the senate building premises, a group of teachers pushed us causing the brief scuffle."

They will also stage a demonstration tomorrow at the base of Aparajeyo Bangla.

On Saturday, the students demonstrated in front of the senate building demanding inclusion of students' representatives in the senate through Ducsu election.

Eight people were injured in a brief scuffle between two groups of teachers and students in front of the building.

The journey felt like forever

Man trapped in container says of his 90 minute ride before rescue

DWAIPAYAN BARUA, Ctg

After loading the container for the whole night, Babul felt so drained he could not keep his eyes open and fell asleep inside it. When he woke up, he found the container locked from the outside and moving. He was struck by fear.

He started shouting, but nobody heard it. He banged on the wall of the container, but nobody felt it.

"I thought I was going to die," said 30-year-old Babul Tripura. "The faces of my three sons cropped up in my mind."

Only five days back, he took the job of loading containers at a private inland container depot (ICD) named KDS Logistics Ltd at Bhatiyari in Sitakunda. A jhum farmer from Khagrachhari, he came there to make some extra money.

On Sunday, he started a 12-hour shift till 6:00am yesterday with five others. Out of fatigue, he fell asleep inside the container loaded with ready-made garments. It was headed for the UK through Colombo Port.

After the loading, a trailer was taking it to Chittagong Port from the dock in Sitakunda. As the vehicle was shaking, he woke up.

"It was very hot inside. I felt suffocated," Babul said. "I knew once the container gets into the ship, there is no way I can survive."

Babul had finished his work around 5:30am, and the trailer started off at 6:00am.

One hour and a half passed, and nobody heard his cry. He kept kicking, slapping, banging on the container door. "The journey felt like forever," he said.

When the trailer stopped at gate no. 4 of Chittagong Port, he started banging its door again. "Someone heard me finally," he said, "and opened the door."

Babul was immediately taken to Chittagong Port Hospital where he was treated for dehy-dration. This correspondent caught up with him there before he was released around 1:00pm.

Babul said he was feeling alright.

Export goods including garment products from different parts of the country are usually sent to the 16 inland container depots or ICDs for loading into containers. Then the containers are locked in presence of officials of Chittagong Customs House and the respective ICD before those are sent to the port for shipment.

'SERIOUS NEGLIGENCE'

Talking about the incident, Chittagong Port Authority Director (Security) Lt Col Abdul Gaffar said there was serious negligence of duty on the part of customs and ICD employees; they were supposed to check the container before sealing it.

If the container entered the port jetty and was loaded to the vessel, the man might meet a tragedy, he told The Daily Star.

Milon Tripura, a staff of the depot who was present during the sealing of the container, said there was no customs official there while a deskman locked the container.

Calling it a "mere accident", Mijanur Rahman, deputy general manager of the depot, said, "Our employee who locked it should have been more careful."

Assistant Commissioner Kefayet Ullah Mazumder of Chittagong Customs House said a revenue officer and two assistant revenue officers (AROs) were deployed to oversee the loading activities at one depot, and during the night shift, only one ARO could be deployed due to a manpower shortage in the Customs House.

"It is not possible for an ARO to be present to oversee the locking of 200 to 300 containers," he said.
