Tk 10cr dyke damaged in two months

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Pirojpur

A 750-metre embankment built at a cost of Tk 10 crore along the Kacha river in Bhandaria upazila is of no benefit to the people as it has been damaged only a couple of months after its completion.

Water Development Board (WDB) Executive Engineer Sayed Ahmed said they spent Tk 10 crore to build the embankment at Charkhali village of Pirojpur under a project funded by the climate change fund.

Construction work of the embankment began in 2015 and ended in June this year, he added.

Sayed said the work of the project was done properly. "The river erosion increased at the embankment site as it took time to compile the project," he added.

"We needed to dump more materials in the water, but we could not do it due to lack of funds," he said, adding that another 750-metre embankment will be built along the same river in the second phase.

Al Mamun Enterprise of Pirojpur and Amin & Company of Khulna constructed the embankment.

Contractors of WDB in Pirojpur said several steps have to be followed to build a riverside protection embankment. As most of the work of the embankment is done under water, it is not monitored properly by WDB men, they added.

Locals said water entered the village through the damaged embankment as it is very low and flooded houses there.

The embankment began to get damaged and some sections have been washed away by the river as the construction work was not done properly, they said.

"Our village would get flooded when there was no embankment, but the situation has not changed even after construction of the embankment," said Alamgir Jomaddar of the village.

"Our houses go under water although an embankment has been built to prevent flooding," said Maksuda Begum.

This protection embankment near Charkhali ferry terminal in Bhandaria upazila of Pirojpur collapsed within two months' of its construction at a cost of Tk 10 crore by the Water Development Board.

4 YRS OF MATIRANGA ARSON ATTACK Victims still in crisis, feel insecure

SAIKAT DEWAN, Khagrachhari

The indigenous people who became victim of the massive attacks at Bogapara and Sarbeswar para of Matiranga upazila under the district on August 3 in 2013 are yet to recover the losses.

A sense of insecurity also prevails among them. Following abduction of a Bangalee motorcycle driver, a group of agitated people attacked seven villages of indigenous people near Taindong Bazar. They set fire to several houses, vandalized many others and looted goods.

Talking with this correspondent, Phani Bhushan Chakma, a ward member of Taindong Union Parishad, said, "The government has built tin-shed houses for 38 families who lost houses in the arson attack. But over two hundred families whose houses were looted and vandalised have not received any government assistance."

The affected families are still passing their days amid financial crisis, said Bakul Chakma, a social worker at Bogapara.

"The tin-shed houses built by the government are very small and designs of the houses are not compatible with our values," said Tapan Shasi Chakma, Karbari (village chief) of Sarbeswar para.

Anil Baran Chakma, a victim of the incident, filed a case with Matiranga Police Station on August 5 in 2013, accusing 30 named people and 150-200 unknown others.

He filed an appeal to the court, expressing 'non-confidence' in the police investigation.

Later, the court entrusted the CID of police with the investigation.

The CID submitted their investigation report on December 6 in 2015, accusing 65 people. Based on this report, the case is under process with the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate's Court, court sources said.

Meanwhile, 56 people have submitted a revision petition to the District and Sessions Judge's Court against the CID investigation report.

Hearing on the petition is scheduled on September 29.

Schoolgirl loses eyesight for rejecting love proposal

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Jhalakathi

A 13-year-old schoolgirl has lost sight of her left eye after being brutally tortured by a local youth allegedly for refusing his love proposal at Shawrakathi village in Jhalakathi Sadar upazila in May this year.

Victim's mother Rabeya Aktar lodged a complaint with Jhalakathi Senior Judicial Magistrate's Court accusing six people by name and four to five others unnamed.

When asked why it took so long to file a complaint in this regard, Rabeya said she was staying in the capital for her daughter's treatment and returned to her home on Monday.

According to the complaint, Momin Howlader, 21, a local vagabond, offered love proposal to Lamia Aktar, daughter of Khalil Howlader and a Class VII student at Shawrakathi Girls' High School, on several occasions on her way to and from school.

As Lamia's mother was making preparation to file a general diary (GD) against Momin, he along with a few cohorts went to Lamia's house on the night of May 8 and started torturing the family members.

At one stage, Momin hit Lamia's eyes with an iron rod saying, "No one will marry you if become blind."

Critically injured Lamia, who has permanently lost her left eye, was first taken to Barisal Sher-e-Bangla Medical College Hospital and later shifted to National Eye Institute in Dhaka for better treatment.

Students of Sher-e-Bangla Girls' High School in Patuakhali say 'No' to child marriage at a ceremony organised by the local police administration to create awareness about the bad effects of child marriage, eve-teasing and drug addiction yesterday.
