BRAD PITT & ANGELIA JOLIE

Happily Ever After?

Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie were the Hollywood 'it' couple for more than a decade. However, after they filed for divorce last year, it was like their fans lost faith in love. But reports have been making the rounds that they have supposedly put a stop to their divorce proceedings and are willingly to see what happens.

Angelina Jolie and Brad Pitt first met back in 2004 during the shoot of Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Pitt was married to Jennifer Aniston and after a very public separation from Aniston, in which fans started taking sides of either Aniston or Jolie, Pitt started living with Jolie.

At that time, Jolie already had her adopted son Maddox. Three years after adopting Maddox, Jolie again adopted Zahara from Ethiopia. But soon afterwards she gave birth to their first biological child, Shiloh, in 2006. After her, Angelina decided to be a mother again and adopted Pax from Vietnam. Brad later applied to become Pax's father. Just a few months after adopting Pax, Jolie became pregnant for the second time with the twins Vivienne and Knox.

Jolie and Pitt became the golden couple once they tied the knot in 2014. Jolie wore a wedding gown and veil which had featured drawings of all her children. It seemed like a fairytale back then but maybe it was too good to be true.

After filing for divorce, Jolie admitted that separating from Brad has been the hardest thing for her to do. Pitt also admitted that he had been constantly drinking since the filing of their divorce. Currently Brad is sober and an insider source has claimed that a lot has changed since the filing. Therefore, fans and loved ones are hoping they might just get back together again.
