

HELLO PEN

Remember the last time you tried to improve your handwriting? Yeah, me neither. We're so used to typing everything out with a keyboard that our penmanship skills have deteriorated greatly. My class notebook is filled with squiggly lines that are only discernible by me. Sometimes, even I can't remember what I was taking notes of when I come across a horribly disfigured grouping of letters that is supposed to be a sentence. I would practise writing more in hopes of not producing any more of the garbage, but I do not find the time at all. Good handwriting is such a thing to behold. I get jealous of the rare breed of people who write so well that their writing looks like something that was printed. Maybe it's time I scrounged some time for practising after all.

- Shahrukh Ikhtear, Sub-Editor, SHOUT.

THIS WEEK'S HORRORSCOPE

ARIES

Create a war council for every problem you face.

TAURUS

A bird in hand is better than two in the bush that did 7/11.

GEMINI

The nature of war is constant.

CANCER

Cluster bombs are illegal but custard bombs aren't.

LEO

That's not the only 9 millimetre on me. Wink wink.

VIRGO

Mosin-nougats are incredibly tasty.

LIBRA

Take your T-43 out for donuts at 300 feet.

SCORPIO

No scoping is not actually that bad of an idea.

SAGITTARIUS

A battle-axe is an excellent tool for the dinner table.

CAPRICORN

Why did Ivan the Terrible have no friends? Because he was flay-ky.

AQUARIUS

Jet fighters are the future of transportation.

PISCES

In the event of a nuclear armageddon, stock up on power banks.

MUNCHIES

E. RAZA RONNY

MIXTAPE

SCIENCE

THE SCRIPT

Science & Faith

MUSE

Supermassive Black Hole

BJÖRK

Cosmogony

DAVID BOWIE

Space Oddity

THE FLAMING LIPS

Race for the Prize

STEVE BURNS

A Song for Dustmites