Director

Jaya and I approximately started our careers at the same time. What I can say about her is that she not only loves films, but the entire intricate process that goes into making a film. She is so particular, professional and talented, that she is an exemplary person for any young actor to follow. Working with her in itself is an experience. Jaya Ahsan has no boundaries, and her prospect in the future is limitless. I know she will go on to achieve even greater things.
