Cats Eye Eid Collection

Cats Eye is a renowned name in the fashion arena of Bangladesh. Most urban Dhakaites would visit the place at least once to see what is in for the season. It is no different for Eid-ul-Azha.

A brief tête-à-tête with the head designer of the men's section, Sadiq Quddus, provided us an optimistic bird's eye view of the latest collection.

According to the designer, the men's section would embrace trendy shirt kurtas, keeping up with recent trend, highlighting fusion wear. The designer also suggested that these kurtas could easily be paired with chinos, denims, joggers, etc.

We also got to know that the panjabi section would emphasise digital prints styled on an array of colours.

Quddus was confident about their formal shirt line because they are an improved version of the previous collection; especially considering the quality and fabric.

A lot of ruckus about men's wear, the ladies are surely awaiting the review of their section by now. The head designer for women's wear at Cats Eye, Rummaella Siddiqui, also had encouraging things to say about the latest designs.

According to Siddiqui, there would be an assortment of up-to-the-minute chic, screen printed and comfortable long kurtas, which can be easily paired with pants, leggings and trendy scarves.

"This year for Eid-ul-Azha, it's all about comfort, style and affordability. We have looked into every perspective from a deeper angle, so that our client's get the highest value for money," concluded Quddus.
