

Hospital fined for risky blood transfusion

Diagnostic centre penalised for forgery

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

A mobile court yesterday fined Regent Hospital Ltd in the capital's Mirpur Tk 6 lakh for transfusing blood without compulsory tests and selling drugs at higher prices by forging the original price tags.

Rapid Action Battalion-4 Executive Magistrate Sarwoer Alam raided the hospital around 1:30pm and caught the hospital staff red-handed. The court saw the hospital's drug store selling a medicine at Tk 500 after forging its original price tag of Tk 60.

During the drive, the court also found an electric heater stove in one of its operation theatres (OT) where they used to cook rice.

Contacted, Rabiul Islam, director (admin) of the hospital, admitted that they transfused blood without compulsory tests but said they did it out of "urgency".

About cooking in OT, he said the room was abandoned since they had another OT which was serving the patients.

Rabiul could not say anything about the high price of the medicine as "the pharmacy was not under him".

In a separate drive, the same court fined Mirpur's Popular Diagnostic Centre (branch-2) Tk 6 lakh for various irregularities including using expired reagents and forging pathological reports.

This correspondent contacted two officials of the diagnostic centre, but they declined to talk.

Cars of different driving schools have occupied a section of the road in front of Motijheel Government Boys High School in the capital. Parking like this has blocked almost one-third of the road, but the authorities concerned turn a blind eye. Such illegal practice is one of the major causes of traffic jams in the city. includes people who arrived before and after August 25, according to the Situation Report: Rohingya Refugee Crisis prepared by the Inter Sector Coordination Group (ISCG).

The report covered the situation from September 16-21, 2017. The next report will be issued on October 1.

Of all the new arrivals, 4,29,000 are in need of emergency food assistance. Among the new arrivals, an estimated 55,770 pregnant and nursing mothers, and children under five, require targeted food assistance.

Some 5.8 million food rations are required to meet people's emergency food assistance needs.

Since 25 August, food security partners have provided 4.6 million individual food rations, reaching out to 358,979 people or 84 per cent of the population with some form of food assistance.

Of the new arrivals, 6,219 pregnant and nursing mothers, and children under five -- 11 per cent of the target population -- have received a targeted food assistance, says the report.

The vast majority of food assistance provided is rice and fortified biscuits; only 83,639 new arrivals have received a full food ration. Meanwhile, conditions across all the sites have been severely affected by heavy rains.

There is a significant need for camp management staff and agencies should be allocated to all sites to ensure site coordination, said the report.

Since 25 August, 30,000 households with 150,000 people have been provided with emergency shelter kits.

The Bangladesh government has deployed the army to support the distribution undertaken by the government and private individuals.

The army is planning to support the construction of new roads to ensure better access to all sites, said the report.

As of September 23, the government has brought 13,418 refugees under its biometric registration scheme with scores of others still waiting to be registered.

UNHCR has deployed equipment and technical capacity to support the government in this process.

Violence in Rakhine State, which began on August 25, has driven an estimated 4,36,000 Rohingya refugees to Bangladesh.

The scale of the influx has resulted in a humanitarian emergency, the report added.

The directive particularly asked police chiefs of the three districts to intensify intelligence surveillance on road, water and airways so the Rohingyas, fleeing from violence in Rakhine state in neighbouring Myanmar, cannot leave Cox's Bazar.

The police headquarters also asked police personnel of the three districts to ensure that female refugees are not subjected to sexual harassment and be vigilant about them being used for smuggling contraband items and weapons.

No worry about 'Super Malaria'

Says IEDCR

BSS, Dhaka

Country's disease monitoring wing -- Institute of Epidemiology, Disease Control and Research (IEDCR) -- yesterday rebuffed the hype about the "Super Malaria", saying that there is nothing to worry about the bug right now.

"We have malaria cases in certain regions in our country, but there is nothing to worry about the Super Malaria here," Dr ASM Alamgir, senior scientific officer of IEDCR, told BSS.

"The disease was common on the Mekong sub region of Southeast Asia, but now the virus of the disease became resistant to traditional drugs. As a result, it is spreading rapidly in that region," he added.

"The first treatment for malaria is artemisinin in combination with piperaquine. But since artemisinin has become less effective, the malaria virus has now evolved to resist piperaquine too," says an international journal.

The disease is spreading swiftly along the Southeast Asia region and experts fear that it can reach further up to Africa, say different international media outlets.
