ROHINGYA CRISIS

Bangladesh wants strong UNSC stance

Seeks support from members as security council meets today

DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT

Dhaka wants the UN Security Council to take "strong stance and swift action" to end the "ethnic cleansing" in Myanmar and to restore peace and stability in the strife-torn Rakhine State to facilitate a smooth return of Rohingyas.

"We expect such concrete steps through which the forcibly displaced people from Myanmar return to their homeland smoothly and without any fear," Foreign Minister AH Mahmood Ali said yesterday.

He made the comment after briefing the Dhaka-based diplomats of the Security Council member countries ahead of the UNSC's meeting today to discuss the violence in Myanmar and hear a briefing from UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres on the crisis.

Bangladesh will put across its case to the UN Security Council debate as countries which are not UNSC members can also give their speeches in the open debate beginning today.

Britain, France, the US and four other countries – Sweden, Egypt, Senegal, and Kazakhstan – have requested the meeting after around half a million Rohingyas, fled a military crackdown in August 25 and crossed into Bangladesh.

UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Zeid Ra'ad Al Hussein has called the security operation as "a textbook example of ethnic cleansing" and French President Emmanuel Macron last week went further, calling it "genocide."

The diplomatic briefing held at state guesthouse Meghna was attended by the envoys of five UNSC permanent members – the US, the UK, France, Russia and China – and four non-permanent members – Japan, Italy, Sweden and Egypt.

Wrapping his two-year-old daughter in a towel, Jiraman Ali was walking fast towards a medical camp near their temporary shelter at Balukhali in Ukhiya.

He looked pale and tired as the child, Jashmin Ara Bibi, had been running a high fever for the last four days.

"We took her to the camp two days ago. Doctors there gave her some syrup. She is taking it on time but the temperature is not coming down," said the Bangladesh has been ranked the 99th most competitive economy in the world, up seven notches from last year's ranking, on the World Economic Forum's Global Competitiveness Report 2017-18.

This is the highest ranking for Bangladesh since the index was introduced in its current format in 2004.

"We have been talking about the potential of Bangladesh to achieve double digit ranking. And for the first time, Bangladesh

WB forecasts 6.4pc growth

Flood damage a key reason for lower projection for FY18

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The World Bank has kept unchanged its growth forecast for Bangladesh at 6.4 percent for the current fiscal year, much lower than the country's achievement in the last fiscal year and the government target for FY 2017-18.

The government has set a growth target of 7.4 percent for the current fiscal year up from 7.24 percent achieved a year ago.

The WB made the forecast in its Bangladesh Development Update report released at its Dhaka office yesterday.

The Washington-based lender's forecast is lower than that (6.8 percent) of the last fiscal year. This is because the growth in FY16-17 was overestimated as it undercounted the flood-induced losses in agriculture, among others, according to the report.

Four remain missing for over a month

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Shrouded in her son's memory, Nasrin Akhter is now bed-ridden and anxiously passing her time.

The mother can now only hope that her son, Ishrak Ahmed Fahim, a student of McGill University in Canada, who went missing from the capital's Dhammondi on August 26, will return soon.

Ishrak's father, Jamal Uddin Ahmed, has asked for help from everyone – the police, Rab and DB – to find his son. Yet, Ishrak remains traceless.

Like Ishrak, five other people have been abducted or gone missing since August 22. Of them, only two have returned. The remaining four are still without a trace.

The list of missing individuals includes businessman Anuruddha Kumar Roy, McGill University student Ishrak Ahmed Fahim, Bangladesh Kallyan Party Secretary

Time to dig deep in tough Test

SAKEB SUBHAN

Among all the teams in Test cricket today, the home and away contrast in ability and expectation is possibly sharpest in Bangladesh's case. Statistics do not do that phenomenon justice -- four matches won away out of a total of 10 Test wins may hint at an even keel than most, but close followers of Bangladesh cricket will know that most of the improvement that the world talks about has been achieved at home, with the victory in the 100th Test in Colombo being the exception. Away, and especially overseas, that improvement has not yet translated into results.

In the endeavour to prove that their newfound home prowess translates to meaningful performances in alien conditions, the Tigers embark upon arguably the toughest cricketing assignment for an Asian team with the first Test
