

COVER STORY

Fashion for the global audience

Chandana R Dewan, taking part in the Bangladesh Fashion Week 2017, in London is representing the unique tribal fashion existent in Bangladesh.

The designer reveals that our country has exceptional, indigenous tribal fashion that has not been explored thoroughly. She wants to reveal the distinctiveness; to the global audience with a touch of her own.

"I believe we have many things to showcase; the tribal fashion is just one of them. I hope to do justice to the rare form of styling and bring about our heritage to the world frontier. Bangladesh Fashion Week is definitely a positive approach to appear to the global audience."

Photo: Sazzad Ibne Sayed

Model: Tania

Wardrobe: Chondon

Make-up: Farzana Shakil's Makeover Salon

Styling: Sonia Yeasmin Isha

Read the full story on page 8 and 9

