

GHOST STORIES

While it's cool for everyone to huddle up and share ghost stories, there are some people who legit get scarred for life. When I was in Cox's Bazar a week back, all of my friends started sharing haunting experiences. One by one, each story grew scarier than the next. Tales of monsters and spirits that lurk in the shadows were the most common. But they were still some of the most jarring tales I've ever heard. Needless to say, I had to sleep with the lights on that night.
