

Mojar School spreads joy with Anondo Utshob 2017

PHOTOS: SUSNATA CHAKMA

SADI MOHAMMAD SHAHNEWAZ

Mojar School, an institution known for providing free education to underprivileged children, held its annual "Anondo Utshob" on October 19, 2017. For the past four years, the school has conducted this programme in order to provide the children a hearty meal at least once a year. "These children are very poor, and some of them do not get to consume meat for months on end," says Arian Arif, the founder of Mojar

School. "Thus, we decided to treat them to a meal where they could have all the meat that they want," he continues.

The programme was held at the Eskaton Ladies Club, and the children started arriving in double-decker buses at 11:30 am, supervised by volunteers and teachers of the school. An air of happiness filled the atmosphere as the children were being escorted inside the venue. Sisimpur took the stage at 12 pm much to the children's delight, followed by lunch. Performances by the students of Mojar School entertained the children and adults alike. There was a surprise performance by renowned singer Parvez Sazzad.

By the end of the event, Mojar School succeeded in leaving its students satisfied and elated. Bringing countless smiles across the faces of the children, this day of joy, feasting, and happiness would surely be etched in their memories forever.

Down The Rabbit Hole

AFSANA AZIZ NITOL

Books, bookmarks, cookies, dessert, scented candles - everything that a bookworm loves was found at Clay Station, located in Banani, on October 20 and 21, 2017, at the event Down The Rabbit Hole. A celebration like this, for book and art lovers, was organised by Made With Love and The Curious Crate.

Sarah Shams, from Made With Love, says, "It was amazing to see that so many people came to the event despite the weather conditions. Watching them having a good time is very gratifying. It makes me want to host exhibitions more often."

Other exhibitors who added to the celebration with their eccentric artifacts were Blooming Tales, Kraftz, Bookcessories, Pineapple, Ink by Inaka, Lucy The Bakery, KIVA HAN and Absolem X Wicks.

Blooming Tales with their super cool rings and pendants, Kraftz with their notebooks and bookmarks, Pineapple with their eco-friendly jute and cotton made accessories and handbags, Absolem X Wicks with their woodmarks and Lucy The Bakery with their delicious cookies, red velvet cheesecake, and other mouth-watering desserts made the exhibition a successful one. Art enthusiasts could also experience the art of clay at Clay Station.

In a world of chaos, such a refreshing celebration of art and books was indeed a breath of fresh air.

PHOTOS: AKIB ABDULLAH

Team Chittagong Presents

ACCESS TO FUTURE 2.1

TEAM CHITTAGONG

On October 21, 2017, Team Chittagong, a youth centric organisation, arranged 'Access to Future 2.1' at the Chittagong Club. Guests from distinctive fields participated in the event, including Ejaj Ahmed, CEO, Bangladesh Youth Leadership Center; Quazi M. Ahmed, CEO and Lead Consultant, Future Leaders; Tahseen Zakaria, Lead Consultant and COO, SkillWiz; Monjurul Hoque, Owner Barcode Restaurant Group; Tanvir Shariar Rimon, COO, ANZ Properties; Bipasha Matin, Senior Lecturer, Daffodil International University; and Iqbal E. Rasul, Corporate Trainer. They explained to more than 200 participants the importance of various leadership qualities.

The event was inaugurated by the Managing Editor of Dainik Azadi, Wahid Malik. He expressed his faith upon the youths of the nation, adding that the young generation owns the ability and courage to create a strong impact on the development of Bangladesh.

Access to Future 2.1 also hosted a panel discussion, where Abu Tayyab, President, International Business Forum Bangladesh; Tahseen Zakaria; Safia Ghazi, Principal, Sunshine Grammar School and College; and Elita Karim, Editor, Star Youth, spoke regarding the current status of the job market. The guests also responded to the queries of the participants.

PHOTO: COURTESY

www.youthop.com

Youth Opportunities

Draper Hills Summer Fellows Programme 2018 at Stanford University

The programme brings together a group of 25 to 30 mid-career practitioners in law, politics, government, private enterprise, civil society, and international development from transitioning countries. This training programme provides a unique forum for emerging leaders to connect, exchange experiences, and receive academic training to enrich their knowledge and advance their work.

Deadline: November 15, 2017 | Fellowship

International Leader of Tomorrow Award 2018 at The University of British Columbia

International Leader of Tomorrow Award winners receive awards proportional to financial need. Financial need is determined by tuition fees and living costs, minus the financial contribution the applicant and their family can make annually. A standard needs-assessment is based on the financial information provided by the applicant and their family.
Deadline: November 15, 2017 | Award

The Coca-Cola Company internship programme 2018

Being an intern means more than getting involved in the day-to-day running of the company. The intern will get exposure to real projects and challenges in a vibrant environment and gain real-world experience. They will also work with the brightest and best in the industry and participate as a member of the workforce of the world's most recognised brand.

Deadline: Ongoing | Internship

Digital Marketing Competition: Analytics 2017 in Dhaka

East-West University Creative Marketing Club (EWUCCMC) is here with the nation's first-ever inter-university business competition "ANALYTICS 2017" based on digital marketing. EWUCCMC, which also happens to be the first ever marketing club of the country, is proud to make history and take the first step into the future of marketing.
Deadline: November 17, 2017 | Competition.

