STREETS UNDER FLYOVERS Occupied by parking, shops

People deprived of benefits of overpasses as streets below are clogged

TAWFIQUE ALI

Illegal and haphazard parking, and makeshift shops and markets under almost all the flyovers in the capital are depriving people of the benefit of the elevated structures, said transport experts.

The vehicles and the illegal structures are choking the roads and creating bottlenecks.

For example, the Tk 1,219-crore Mouchak-Moghbazar flyover was fully opened to public late last month with expectations that it would bring a huge relief to city dwellers, who lose hours every day to traffic snarl-ups.

Immediately after the inauguration, the roads underneath the nearly 9km elevated structure in Malibagh, Rajarbagh, Shahjahanpur and Moghbazar apparently became a permanent parking lot, eating up almost half of the space and creating gridlocks.

Many of the roads in Gulistan, Fulbaria, Jatrabari and other areas under the 12km Mayor Hanif flyover, built at a cost of Tk 2300 crore, also remain occupied by parked vehicles and illegal shops.

The situation under the Khilgaon flyover is similar.

S ALAM GROUP
'Govt looking into fund sources'

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The government has been looking into the sources of money of S Alam Group across the country, Finance Minister AMA Muhiith said yesterday.

"I think it [the Group's fund] is mostly debt from other banks," Muhiith told reporters, replying to a query at his secretariat office.

The government's next course of action depends on findings of the enquiry, he added.

In recent years, Chittagong-based S Alam Group drew huge attention, especially in the financial market, after taking over several banks through buying shares from the stock market.

The latest was the takeover of Social Islami Bank on October 31 this year. The Group bought around 50 percent stakes in the Sharia-based bank.

It had to spend over Tk 1,000 crore to buy around 37 crore shares of the bank at the market price.

Earlier in January this year, S Alam Group strengthened its grip on Islami Bank Bangladesh,
