

IT'S OFFICIAL!

Game of Thrones is set for 2019

Game of Thrones is the biggest hit of HBO with around 30 million viewers in the United States alone and billions across the globe. This time GoT fans will have to wait through a long winter to get Season 8, because HBO has confirmed that the final season won't be here until 2019. "The epic fantasy series Game of Thrones will return for its six-episode, eighth and final season in 2019," reads the official website. This Emmy Award-winning show is expected to reveal which of the warring families of the Seven Kingdoms of Westeros will win the control of the Iron Throne. The final season is going to be as spectacular as possible. The Battle of Bastards and The Red Wedding directors will be helming majority of the episodes in the coming season, which is great news for fans of big battles and deadly weddings.

Cate Blanchett

to Chair Cannes Film Festival 2018

Oscar-winning actress Cate Blanchett will be chairing this year's Cannes Film Festival, to be held on the French Riviera. This Australian movie star will become the 11th woman to chair a jury board. She will lead the panel comprised of actors and filmmakers to choose the winner of the Palme d'Or – the prestigious award for the best film. "I am humbled by the privilege and responsibility of presiding over this year's jury", stated Blanchett.

This festival plays an essential role in bringing the world's most talented artists together to celebrate stories that they share, crave and understand. Blanchett with some other actors has recently initiated a campaign to help fight sexual harassment in Hollywood. Harvey Weinstein's sex scandal has accelerated this movement and accumulated protesters to stand strong against harassment at workplaces.

Cameron Diaz

Desires to Embrace Motherhood

Cameron Diaz is keen to have a baby with her husband Benji Madden. Even though this reputed artist has been enjoying her life as a housewife, she has recently decided to take a step forward to experience the taste of motherhood. This 45-year old actress was last seen onscreen in the 2014 film Annie and after that she took a three year-long break. She and her husband enjoyed their married life since then but now, the couple thinks it would be a miracle to be blessed with a baby. "The chance of being parents is something that we would love to have", stated Diaz regarding this revelation. Cameron Diaz's acting career includes famous movies like Charlie's Angels, Holiday, My Best Friend's Wedding, Being John Malkovich and many more.
