Within every word of truth printed, lies the foundation of a great nation

As a business partner, occasional collaborator and a fellow member of the media industry for the last 15 years, the Havas Bangladesh family has closely witnessed your ability to harness the power of truth, justice and the people's right to know as the building blocks of constructing a more robust future for the nation. Your accomplishments, your evolution, your public outcries against unfairness and your daily struggles against opression for the past 27 years - is not only a testament of your resolute convictions and unflinching spirit; we believe it is a beacon symbolizing the best of what means to be a Bangladeshi - a beacon and a star shining daily to guide us towards greatness

Congratulations to The Daily Star for 27 years of building a better tomorrow for everyone
