Olivia Wilde sets directorial debut "Booksmart"

Kaitlyn Dever and Beanie Feldstein to star

Olivia Wilde is setting her directorial debut "Booksmart", with Kaitlyn Dever and Beanie Feldstein to star, according to Variety.

The film is being produced by Annapurna and Gloria Sanchez, the female-focused production banner wing of Gary Sanchez Productions. The story follows Dever and Feldstein's characters - two academic superstars and best friends - suddenly realize on the eve of their high school graduation that they should have worked less and played more. Determined never to fall short of their peers, the girls set out on a mission to cram four years of fun into one night. The original script is by Emily Halpern and Sarah Haskins. With female stars, writers, and director, "Booksmart" fits in well with Elbaum's original goal when she first came up with the idea for Gloria Sanchez: to give more opportunities to women in the industry. Wilde's film credits include "Meadowland", which she also produced; "Her" and "Rush". She also executive produced a slew of short documentaries, including Oscar-nominated "Body Team 12". On the directing side, she has helmed music videos for RHCP and Edward Sharpe and the Magnetic Zeros. She will next be seen in "A Vigilante" and Dan Fogelman's "Life Itself". Dever can be seen next in Lynn Shelton's "Outside In", which will bow this spring by the Orchard and Netflix, and "Beautiful Boy" which opens October 12. Feldstein had her breakout role in the Universal comedy "Neighbors 2: Sorority Rising" and followed that up as Saoirse Ronan's friend in "Lady Bird".

Smashing Pumpkins announce reunion tour

The Smashing Pumpkins have finally made good on all the teasers and announced a tour. Billy Corgan has reunited with classic lineup members James Iha and Jimmy Chamberlin, plus late-2000s guitarist Jeff Schroeder, to hit the road for the "Shiny and Oh So Bright" tour this summer. The popular '90s alt-rock outfit will be "celebrating songs from their first five albums from Gish to Machina", 'exclusively' playing music from those albums, according to a press release reported by Pitchfork. The announcement comes after weeks of drama involving former bassist D'arcy Wretzky. Although the band claimed they asked her to re-join the group "repeatedly", she called that claim "a complete lie." Wretzky also said of Corgan, "I honestly think he may have a brain tumor. He's always been insufferable."

ily of Abul Hasan Khan, his daughters and their neighbors. One day a young man arrives at the house and claims to be Khan's nephew, but no one really knows him. When the family goes on vacation and Raju gets kidnapped, taking the story forward. The series airs Sundays through Tuesdays at 7:30pm.

Akshaye Khanna, Richa Chadha team up for "Section 375"

Bollywood actors Akshaye Khanna and Richa Chadha have joined hands for a new film titled "Section 375", about how a law made to protect women can also be misused. The film will be directed by Manish Gupta, who has earlier helmed Kay Kay Menon-starrer "Rahasya". The film is said to be inspired by 10 different real life cases and will have both Akshaye and Richa playing lawyers. Section 375 in the Indian Penal Code seeks to define rape for legal purposes. The movie is likely to go on floors by March or April. Akshaye was last seen in Sidharth Malhotra-Sonakshi Sinha-starrer "Ittefaq", while Richa is riding high on the success of "Fukrey Returns" that hit theatres in December last year. Richa will soon be seen in Sudhir Mishra's "Daasdev" that will release on March 23.
