Sylhet City Corporation Mayor Ariful Haque Chowdhury said, "There is a committee for the Eidgah that is led by a motwalli (caretaker), but I do not know anything about putting any signboards. I will be looking into the matter."

Contacted, Jahir Bakht, the motwalli of the Eidgah, said, "As far as I know, Eidgah should be open for all men and women; Islam also permits such equal status for all. Barring women's entry into the place is really unexpected..."

He said he would take a decision after a meeting with other members of the committee.

better treatment.

Police immediately could not say who attacked the woman and why.

Hosney Ara used to live with her husband Nurul Islam Mia and a domestic help in the village. Her son Mostofa Kamal, a retired army officer and an RMG factory owner, lives in Dhaka, said locals.

No case was filed till yesterday, said the OC.

Abul Mansur Ahmad's writings

NSOU Vice Chancellor Prof Subha Shankar Sarkar said, "We have to let the present generation know about the contributions of a farsighted person like Abul Mansur Ahmad."

Noted Indian journalist Snehasis Sur, also president of Kolkata Press Club, said the life and works of Abul Mansur Ahmad was tri-directional as he was a writer, journalist and politician.

"Such multidimensional activities made his life diverse. He shone bright as a journalist in the beginning of his career, then as a litterateur and afterwards as a politician," he said.

Abul Mansur Ahmad started his career at weekly Mohammadi. He also worked for several other prominent newspapers such as The Musalman, Krishak and Nabajug. He was editor of the Kolkata based Daily Ittehad from 1946 to 1948.

He was also known for doing journalism in English, said Snehasis while presenting an article on Abul Mansur Ahmad.

The Daily Star Editor and Publisher

Mahfuz Anam, the youngest son of Abul Mansur Ahmad, said people of the Bengal region have to united; they have to understand each other. They should identify themselves as Bangalees, he added.

Abul Mansur Ahmad was one of the writers who contributed towards writing the history of the partition of Bengal, he said.

He said the international seminar was organised as part of their project on the partition of Bengal and the 1971 Liberation War.

He also thanked the NSOU authorities for arranging such an event and introducing his father to the readers, writers and researchers of Kolkata in a new way.

Three articles on Abul Mansur Ahmad were presented in two separate segments during the seminar.

Dr Md Chenggish Khan, a professor of Bangla at Bangladesh Open University, presented an article titled, "Partition, Hindu-Muslim Antipathy and Abul Mansur Ahmad's Satire".

Dr Barendu Mandal, a professor of history at Jadavpur University in India, and journalist Snehasis Sur presented another article titled, "Contemporary East Bengal and Abul Mansur Ahmad's Literature".

The third article titled, "Abul Mansur and Evolution of the Thoughts of Bangalee Muslims", was presented by Dr Rajarshi Chakrabarty of the history department at the University of Burdwan in India.

Besides, a documentary on the life and activities of Abul Mansur Ahmad was also exhibited.

During the seminar, Kolkata Press Club presented the guests with a book titled, "Bangla Sangbadpotrer 200 Bochor".

Prof Sadhan Chakraborty, vice chancellor of Kazi Nazrul University in India; Manan Kumar Mandal, a professor of Bangla at NSOU; and Habibur Rahman, a professor of Islamic University in Kushtia, Bangladesh; also spoke.

Abul Mansur Ahmad was born in 1898 in Dhanikhola village of Trishal, Mymensingh. He passed away in 1979 in Dhaka.

There is no rule of law

There should be a balance of power between the president and the prime minister. A person will not be able to remain in PM post for more than two tenures.

The seven-point programme also includes appointment of Naypal (Ombudsman) in line with the constitution.

The party also suggested forming a separate commission headed by the ombudsman to appoint honest and quality persons in different constitutional and important posts of the country.

In reply to a query, the Gonoforum president said the country will face dire consequences if the next election is not held in a free, fair and acceptable manner.

Dr Kamal also said Gonoforum can form an alliance with any political party except the anti-liberation war elements.

He said there is no democracy inside the political parties.

Therefore, major reforms are necessary to ensure democracy inside the political parties.

Meanwhile, Yasin alleged that the BCL leaders instructed his roommates to not to acknowledge that he has been staying with them. "I'm an allotted student of the hall. I still have my belongings there."

When asked why he did not file any complaint, he said he could not do so as the university is closed on Friday, with a placard demanding removal of Sufia Kamal hall Provost Prof Sabita Rizwana, Yasin staged a sit-in in front of the hall alone.

As the news spread, a number of students, including leaders of Bangladesh Shadharan Chhatra Odhikar Sangrakhan Parishad, a platform of students who had been demonstrating for a reform in the quota system joined him.

After hours of demonstrations, the hall provost said the three girls had returned to the dorm after giving written statements that "they would not spread rumours again".

PROTEST CONTINUES
Around 100 people under the banner of "Shikkharthider Onirapottay Udbigno Ovivabok O Nagarikbrindo" staged a protest rally in front of the national museum in the capital's Shahbagh yesterday.

The speakers condemned the Thursday night's incident and demanded a safe and stable campus for the students.

Meanwhile, demanding a safe campus for students, a group of teachers under the banner of "Shocheton Shikkhokbrindo" will form a human chain at the base of Aparajeyo Bangla on the campus around 11:00am today.

Besides, Kamruzzaman, also a secretary of Poba, said around 30 lakh tissue bags, which is harmful for health and environment, is being produced in the country daily.

He called for coordination among the authorities concerned and a proper step from the environment and forests ministry to execute the ban.

Lelin Chowdhury, joint secretary of Poba, said use of polythene is causing different types of disease including cancer. "So, the government should work towards encouraging people to use jute and other environment-friendly alternatives."

Since 1970, Earth Day has been celebrated to demonstrate support for environmental protection. This year, Earth Day will be observed with the slogan -- "End Plastic Pollution".

He also said once the election schedule is announced the government does not and will not do anything that may have a bearing on the election.

Replying to a question about the participation of BNP and other political parties, he said, "Participation could not be made conditional on the release of any particular person, as she [Khaleda] had been convicted by an open court."

Explaining their alliance with Jatiya Party, he said, "Ershad was agreed on our programmes, including the trial of war criminals; therefore, we agreed to make an alliance with him."

National Nutrition Week that will begin tomorrow. He said safe and nutritious food is a constitutional right of every citizen.

The government is working to ensure such food for the countrymen, he added.

USAID Deputy Director (economic growth office) David Westerling said ensuring nutrition for a nation is one of the factors for development.

He also said to make a world free from malnutrition, youths can play the part in creating awareness through different campaigns and the USAID will always help in such endeavour.

Director General of Food Planning and Monitoring Unit (Ministry of Food) Badrul Arefin, Chief Executive Officer of BIID Shahid Uddin Akbar, Chief Technical Adviser of FAO Naoki Minamiguchi and a delegate from European Union Mario Ronconi were also present during the programme.

The club members participated in different competitions including cooking, food design and street play.

Besides, there were different sessions including the importance of nutrition among adolescents and thoughts of youths in food security and nutrition.
