

FAMOUS BIRTHDAYS

STEVIE WONDER

"I just called to say I love you, and I mean it from the bottom of my heart"

To any fan of classic or modern music, Stevie Wonder needs no prior introduction. Since the very young age of 11 he has shown his immense potential as a singer, eventually making his way to top-chart albums, best-selling singles and a whopping 25 Grammy Awards. He has achieved tremendous success both commercially and critically, and has also contributed greatly to positive political and social causes. Despite being blind since birth, he has never lost his way in producing some of the most amazing tracks in the history of music, with the most memorable ones being I Just Called to Say I Love You, You Are the Sunshine of My Life, Superstition, For Your Love and Sir Duke. This wonderful musician turns 68 tomorrow. Star Showbiz wishes him an advance birthday and more successful years to come!

Zoe Saldana

on the Hollywood Walk of Fame

After smashing success as the alien warrior Gamora in the Guardians of the Galaxy films and more recently, Avengers: Infinity War, Zoe Saldana is on a path to eternal stardom, literally. She joins the likes of Marilyn Monroe, Charlie Chaplin and her co-actor Chris Pratt, by receiving her very own star in the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Zoe Saldana took to Instagram to express her gratitude, saying she is blessed and honored to be a part of the history of Hollywood. "May this open more doors for Latinx and all other under-represented community!" she further stated. Zoe Saldana has also appeared in James Cameron's 2009 film Avatar and the recent Star Trek trilogy. Being a constant presence in blockbuster sci-fi and fantasy films, Zoe Saldana is expected to become a top name in this specific genre quite soon.
