Abu Raihan Khan, a third-year student of mass communication and journalism, submitted the memorandum on behalf of the students.

The students also submitted details of 14 Bangladesh Chhatra League (BCL) activists who were involved with recent spate of attacks on quota reformists, and demanded they be brought to justice. They identified the BCL men and encircled their faces on printed out photos of attacks.

In response, DU VC Prof Akhtaruzzaman said the memorandum will be sent to the probe committee that will decide on the allegations. He also said if there is any allegation against someone, it should be submitted to him in writing.

Meanwhile, students of physics department formed a human chain in Mukarram Bhawan area on the campus, protesting attacks carried out by BCL men.

A demonstrator there said some goons beat up Mithu, a student of the department, at Shahbagh on July 2. He is still sick and the university authorities are not bearing the expense of his treatment.

They also demanded immediate release of the detained quota reform leaders and vowed not to join classes until the attackers are punished.

UNB, Dhaka

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina yesterday said allowances being provided under the social safety net programmes are not meant for running the whole family or making one dependent on allowances.

"These allowances are just to ensure that no one suffers from starvation, but nobody should stay away from work," she said.

The premier was speaking at the inauguration of electronically distributing allowances to 115,088 beneficiaries under the safety net programmes of the social welfare ministry through a videoconference at Gono Bhaban.

She said those who are getting the money and have the capability to work must work for earning. "We will give you a certain amount that will ensure food, but you also have to work. Otherwise, people will get dependent on the allowances."

The PM said the government will help people become self-dependent and the allowances would be given for any crisis moments so that they do not suffer.

State Minister for Social Welfare Nuruzzaman Ahmed spoke on the occasion and Social Welfare Secretary Md Zillar Rahman made a power-point presentation.

Later, Hasina talked to the beneficiaries in Gopalganj, Narsingdi, Kishoreganj and Chapainawabganj through the videoconference.

protect the poor and ensure their basic needs.

Mentioning that the country has now been brought under a digital network, she said more than 1.40 crore mothers are receiving stipend in their mobile accounts.

Primarily, 115,088 beneficiaries under four districts would receive allowances in their bank accounts under the Government to Person (G2P) system.

Officials at the Ministry of Social Welfare said the allowance distribution activities through G2P would be expanded to 10 more districts during the current fiscal year.

The number of beneficiaries to get allowances through electronic fund transfer system would be increased to 66 lakh in phases, they added.
