hill tracts in the current year. But the actual number is much higher.

A total of 427 incidents of rape took place in the last six months across the country while the number of killing after rape, family violence, killing after harassment, violence against children and killing of children after harassment is 37, 208, 144, 856 and 148 respectively.

The speakers also said the government must take the responsibility for not bringing the perpetrators to justice and meting out strict punishment to the killers and rapists.

They also stressed the need for ensuring speedy trial of the cases filed over violence against children and women.

Samajtantrik Women Forum President Rowsan Ara Roshu presided over the programme where General Secretary Shampa Basu and member of the central advisory committee Samsun Nahar Josna were also present.

HC orders closure of 340

headlined "An indifferent forest department".

The HC also issued a rule asking respondents to explain in four weeks why their inaction in stopping the operation of 340 purported illegal sawmills should not be declared illegal, and why they should not be directed to shut down the sawmills.

Secretary to the ministry of environment and forest, DG of DoE, divisional and district forest officers in Pabna and its DC and additional DC have been made respondents to the rule.

The High Court bench fixed October 4 for passing further order on this issue.

Citing forestry official Kabir Hossain Patwari, The Daily Star report said there are 367 sawmills in nine upazilas of Pabna district.

Only 27 of them have a forest department licence, and the rest are illegal.

Advocate Md Mesbahul Islam Asif, who made the writ petition, told The Daily Star that he received the copy of the HC order on July 31.

The officials concerned of the government have not taken any initiative to stop operations of the mills, as they might not have received the copy of the High Court order yet, he said.

Deputy Attorney General Md Ekramul Haque Tutul, who represented the government in this case, told The Daily Star that the officials concerned must take steps to stop operation of 340 illegal sawmills in line with the High Court directive.

authority and make them accountable for their actions," National University student Moumita told The Daily Star. She was helping school students in checking licences of vehicles.

Policemen were deployed in the area, but their overall attitude towards the students was friendly. This correspondent overheard an official telling his colleagues that it's not surprising that the students would raise the demands; bus drivers in Dhaka are indeed reckless.

Remembering Zamiruddin Ahmed

Today is the 20th death anniversary of Ambassador Zamiruddin Ahmed. He was a journalist, lawyer, politician, diplomat and revolutionary.

An early career in journalism (Paschim Banga Bangla Patrika, Ittehad, The Nation, Daily Azad) followed by law (Senior Advocate, Supreme Court) and political activism led to close associations and lifelong friendships with leaders such as Hussain Shaheed Suhrawardy, Manik Mia, Moulana Bhashani, Ataur Rahman Khan, Tajuddin Ahmed and Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman. He was a member of the Rashtra Bhasha Andolon Committee during the 1952 Bangla Language Movement, a member of the very first Working Committee of the Awami League in 1953, and Political Secretary to the Chief Minister of East Pakistan in 1956. He coordinated many election campaigns culminating in the Awami League's pivotal landslide victory in the 1970 Pakistan General Election.

Post Independence, he was appointed by Bangabandhu as Bangladesh's top diplomat in Malaysia, Libya and Tunisia. He practiced law in the Supreme Court until his retirement.

We miss his kindness, generosity and concern for everyone's well-being. Please pray for his departed soul. D-232

Protect languages of ethnic minorities

Say speakers at discussion

UNB, Dhaka

Speakers at a discussion yesterday called for taking necessary steps and creating public awareness to preserve the languages and literatures of people of the ethnic minority communities.

Adivasi Kalyan O Unnayan Sangstha organised the programme at Public Library, marking International Day of the World's Indigenous Peoples (August 9).

Speaking at the programme as the chief guest, Dhaka University Pro-Vice Chancellor Prof Dr Muhammad Samad said ethnic minority communities should work hard to protect their languages.

He also underscored the need for enhancing the practice of indigenous languages, literatures and culture and establishing a committee and community radio to ensure such practice.

Dr Kazal Krishna Banerjee, a professor at the DU English department, called for including indigenous languages into mainstream.

He also highlighted the importance of awareness and a change in people's mindset in this regard.

While presenting the keynote paper, poet Anisur Rahman said a government decision in 2010 recognised 30 communities as ethnic minorities.

Referring to a research article, he claimed that a total of 75 ethnic minority communities of Bangladesh have been mentioned in the article.

Anisur Rahman alleged that the government decision deprived the rest of the ethnic minority communities of their identities.

Rakhi Mrong, women affairs secretary of Adivasi Kalyan O Unnayan Sangstha, said, "To enrich cultural elements and literatures, languages need to be protected and conserved," she said.

Among others, Mahmudul Amin, associate professor of National Academy for Educational Management, and Ashish Hajong, a leader of Bangladesh Hajong Chhatra Sangathan, spoke at the programme.

It was chaired by Mong A Khen Mongmong, president of Adivasi Kalyan O Unnayan Sangstha.

"A cabinet meeting will be held on Monday (August 6) and the act concerning road safety is supposed to be presented there. To what extent the government has accepted the [students'] demands will only be understood after seeing what law they make on it," said Abul Maksud.

Sushashoner Jonno Nagorik (Sujon), a civil society platform, in a press statement said the protest of the young students is an unprecedented incident in not only Bangladesh but also the world.

It also said public support for the movement is a strong wake-up call for the government.

Sujon appreciated the decision of the government to not use force against the movement waged by school and college students, but condemned the attack on students by police and some alleged ruling party activists.

Juktofront leaders AQM Badruddoza Chowdhury, ASM Abdur Rob and Mahmudur Rahman Manna in a joint statement expressed solidarity with the students' nine-point demand, and called upon the government to stop attack on agitating students.

Bangladesher Samajtantrik Dal also demanded that logical demands of the students be accepted.

I just want

Bangladesh Sadharan Chhatra Odhikar Sangrakkhan Parishad, was detained by law enforcers a month ago. He was remanded twice in two different cases.

The family members appealed to the premier to release the detained demonstrators, saying they [demonstrators] were not involved with politics and their movement was not against the government.

Mujibur Rahman, father of detained quota reformist Moshir Rahman, said he raised his son on earnings from pulling a rickshaw. He too pleaded with the PM for his son's release.

"For the last one month, I have been trying... but to no avail. I just want my son back," said Mujibur of Rajapur upazila in Jhalakathi.

Speaking as the chief guest, ABM Mostafa Amin, member secretary of Jatiya Oikya Prokriya, urged the government to release the detained activists and accept the logical demands of the quota reformists.

He said that not only the supporters of their party but also all political parties will unite and take to the streets with the people against the government.

Moudud said that the government now must engage in discussions with political parties to overcome the ongoing crisis; there is no alternative.
