Dedicates Century to Anushka

Virat Kohli recently gave a top class performance against England. He managed to score his 22nd century on the second day of the test match. And what he did to celebrate the milestone could barely evade the eyes of the spectators. Kohli reached inside his shirt and brought out his wedding ring that he was wearing on a chain. He then proceeded to kiss the wedding ring, and send another flying kiss to his wife, Bollywood actor Anushka Sharma who was in the stands watching the game. The ostentatious all-rounder seems to be quite sure about the path to his lady's heart!
