

FALLING DOWN

XXXTENTACION AND LIL PEEP

Falling Down, a track made by late rappers XXXTentacion and Lil Peep was released on September 19. Lil Peep passed away on November 15, 2017, due to a drug overdose. XXXTentacion was shot and killed during an attempted robbery on June 18, 2018. The rapper iLoveMakonnen announced in August that he was going to release a song featuring both the deceased rappers. He revealed that he was working on a project with Lil Peep, called Sunlight on Your Skin. But, after Lil Peep's passing, he asked XXXTentacion to join the track. That is when Sunlight on Your Skin turned into Falling Down, featuring Lil Peep and XXXTentacion; two celebrated rappers of this generation who passed away unexpectedly.

Source: Internet

Ellen Pompeo to Leave GREY'S ANATOMY?

Star of Grey's Anatomy Ellen Pompeo has hinted that she might be leaving the long time running show soon. She told Entertainment Weekly, "I'm clearly not prepared right now to make any kind of formal announcement about what my future is on the show, but I am really feeling like we have told the majority of the stories we can tell. It's about time that I mix it up. I'm definitely looking for a change." Ellen last signed a 20 million per year deal to do seasons 15 and 16 for the show. That deal also made her a producer on the show. Season 15 of Grey's Anatomy debuted on September 27.

Source: Internet

New Team Behind 'Dostana' Sequel

Recently, rumours surfaced that a sequel for the hit comedy Dostana was to be made. Now, reports are suggesting that the first film's director Tarun Mansukhani will not be directing the sequel. Instead, the director will be Karan Johar. Supposedly, Tarun had made a few drafts for the film, but Johar rejected them all as he did not think that they were quite good enough. Karan has also assembled a brand new team for the film. The new director also wants to handle the casting, so it is not confirmed whether or not the previous film's cast will return.

Source: Times of India