Using plastic to fight pollution

JU students make waste bins from discarded bottles

One of the 10 "Yes Bins" that were placed at various spots on campus.

JU CORRESPONDENT

Bangladesh ranks 10th in the world as the biggest plastic polluters, according to Earth Day Network, with the country producing a mammoth 800,000 tonnes of plastic waste per year.

But a group of students at Jahangirnagar University (JU) have taken an approach to fight pollution - using plastic.

Some 10 garbage bins, made out of discarded plastic bottles (mostly of beverages), have been placed at most-frequented places on the campus including the main entrance, Shaheed Minar and the Old Transport site since the start of October.

YES Bangladesh, a voluntary organisation, came up with the idea of these named "Yes Bin" -- ahead of this year's undergraduate admission tests when the the thana unit of the Puja Udjapan Parishad," said the ADC, adding, "Shimul was the general secretary of the previous committee of the parishad and tried to become its president this year."

"Bishu's close friend Rajib became general secretary of the present committee, and due to strong opposition from Bishu and Rajib, Shimul could not be president," the officer said. "So Shimul decided to take revenge and planned to kill Bishu."

Contacted, Advocate Chandan Talukder, president of Chattogram city unit of Bangladesh Puja Udjapan Parishad, said Bishu was a good person. "He was elected treasurer of Pahartali thana unit of the Parishad this year."

Court has more to different terms of jail in two cases filed over the August 21 grenade attack on an Awami League rally in the capital in 2004.

Earlier, the Canadian Federal Court described BNP as a "terrorist organization" twice -- first in February and again in May -- over a petition seeking political asylum by two of its activists. The minister said due to inclement weather, Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina will now visit Munshiganj, Shariatpur and Madaripur on Sunday instead of today, to inaugurate rail connectivity work of the Padma Bridge project.

About the progress of the work on the bridge, he said five spans have already been installed at Janjira end while four to five more will be installed at the Mawa end.

yesterday, Sudha's aunt Laxmi said she saw the woman roaming around the labour ward from the very first day. "I asked her several times why she was there?" she said. The woman replied that she had a patient on level 4 but she was staying on level 3 since "the upper floor was dirty". "The woman disappeared when the boy went missing," she said. Laxmi identified the woman in the footage. Meanwhile, police picked up a woman in connection with the stealing and called Laxmi to the police station, but Laxmi said it was not the same woman seen in the footage. The OC said search was underway to rescue the boy. "We need more time," he said. A two-member probe body has been formed by the hospital authorities with Shamim Ahmed as head The committee was asked to submit their report by seven working days.
