

IT WAS WAY TOO MUCH TOO SOON!

The couple that has been giving us an internet sensation, nauseating PDAs, and matching tattoos has called it quits. Last week, Ariana Grande and the Saturday Night Live star Pete called off their engagement following an emotionally tumultuous month. It's been quite the whirlwind romance which has come to an end only after four months of their engagement. According to various sources, the couple reacted quoting "It was way too much too soon," The decision to split was a mutual choice, as both the God Is a Woman singer and the Saturday Night Live star felt the timing wasn't right. Speculations are on air that the tragic death of Ariana Grande's ex-boyfriend Mac Miller could have played a part in her split from fiancé Pete Davidson.

DIDDY-CASSIE No longer together

One of the hip-hop's favourite couples, Diddy and Cassie have broken up after being together for decades. The couple, who went public with their relationship in 2012 after years of speculation, officially split on 2018. The 47-year-old music mogul and 32-year-old singer/songwriter officially made their debut as a couple in 2012, but sources say, the two had been secretly dating since 2007. The famed duo hasn't actually been together in months as per various reports the reason behind which might be Diddy getting cozy with 26-year-old model Jocelyn Chew. Diddy, a father to six children from previous relationships, had expressed thoughts about starting a family with Cassie back in January. The duo was last spotted together in May at The Met Gala.

PRINCE with his queen

The king of reality shows Prince Narula has tied knots with Yuvika Chaudhary and the whole world is drooling over their fairy tale love story. The duo met at the Big Boss house but soon after the flower of love had bloomed, Yuvika got evicted from the house. Many struggles came through their way since then but their relationship stood firm. They got reunited only after Prince, who was the winner of Big Boss 9, came out of the house. Though they never accepted officially about their reunion, their posts in social media were enough to portray that they were "more than friends".

