

Stunning in silver

The craft of gold and silver smithy for jewellery-making is one that has existed in Bengal for millennia. Right from those times jewellery has not only been an element of weddings and special occasions, but also been represented as a symbol of good fortune, wealth and Bengali tradition. In fact, one could even say that a Bengali bride looks incomplete unless she is decked up in exquisite traditional jewellery.