

WOLVERINE

CLAWS RIGHT BACK AT DEADPOOL

Hugh Jackman and Ryan Reynolds' faux feud kept on rolling through the weekend. Two days before the Hollywood Film Awards, Reynolds asked his millions of social media followers, "How well do you really know Hugh Jackman?" and shared a faux political attack ad, combining his own hilarious narration with clips from The Front Runner. The Australian actor we know and love for playing Wolverine fired right back at the Hollywood Film Awards on Sunday, joking that the Deadpool star wasn't even invited to the event. He said, "I don't want it to escalate and you know, it's Sunday. We're here at the awards and he's not here," Jackman joked. "But I don't want to bring that up that he wasn't invited, I don't think that's right. I don't think that's fair." We can't wait to see where their fake feud goes next.

AKSHAY KUMAR

to star in India's first space movie

The actor is now all set for a major collaboration with Fox Star Studios and Cape Of Good Films for three films where he will be seen playing the lead roles. The first film to go on floors in this venture is India's first space movie, Mission Mangal, which will be directed by Jagan Shakti and will be in collaboration with R Balki. The shooting for the movie begins in mid-November. Kumar is delighted to find a new creative partner in Fox Star Studios and he is looking forward to creating a collaboration that will deliver a meaningful and entertaining cinematic experience. With their combined energies, they are hoping to create content that not only excites but also empowers.

Deepika and Ranbir to reunite?

Ranbir Kapoor and Deepika Padukone's much-loved chemistry on screen has always been appraised by their fans. They connect with the audience in a way that many actors apparently crave for. Though Ranbir and Deepika were in a relationship for a long time, they have now moved on with their lives and have found love elsewhere. But they still remain great friends and have decided to collaborate on yet another project. However, this is not for a feature film but the duo will be uniting again for a TV commercial.
