CMP gets full-fledged counter terrorism unit

FM MIZANUR RAHAMAN, Ctg

With an aim to expedite the fight against militancy and terror-related activities, Chattogram Metropolitan Police (CMP) has established a fully-fledged Counter Terrorism (CT) unit, which is set to be inaugurated today.

A year after its proposal was sent to Police Headquarters, the CT unit at CMP finally started its journey on October 23. The unit is headed by Deputy Commissioner (DC) Mohammad Shahidullah, following the order of CMP Commissioner Mahabubor Rahman.

The unit's new office at Dampara Police Lines will be inaugurated by CMP commissioner today evening, said police.

Formation of a comprehensive CT unit under the jurisdiction of CMP was a long-standing demand from security experts, as law enforcers had busted several hideouts of banned outfits including Harkat-ul-Jihad Bangladesh (Huji), Jama'atul Mujahideen Bangladesh (JMB) and Ansarullah Bangla Team (ABT) in the region before.

Palash Kanti Nath, additional deputy commissioner (ADC, operation) at the CT unit, said, "Special Weapons and Tactics

(SWAT), Crisis Response Team (CRT) and Bomb Disposal sections of CMP have already been merged with CT after formation of the unit."

There are two other separate teams named CT (intelligence) and CT (operation). Each of the four teams is being led by an ADC.

Talking to The Daily Star, CMP CT unit's DC Mohammad Shahidullah said, "Some administrative work of the newly formed unit is underway while logistics and other necessary support have already been given to us."

According to CMP sources, SWAT currently has 16 officials while CRT has 24 personnel. Apart from that, Bomb Disposal Unit has eight personnel, and 20 under operation and intelligence sections.

Despite having a manpower crisis and limited logistic support, CMP has successfully carried out anti-militancy drives in the past.

On October 5, 2015, Detective Branch (DB) of CMP busted a JMB hideout in the city's Khoajnagar area and arrested five militants including Towfiqul Islam Javed, military wing commander of the organisation's Chittagong region, along with nine hand-made grenades and other ammunition.

Khulna child hospital overrun after flu attack

DIPANKAR ROY, Khulna

Hundreds of children are being deprived of immediate care as Khulna Shishu Hospital is overflowing with patients after a recent outbreak of viral fever.

Due to the overcrowding, many children have to go to Khulna Medical College Hospital and Khulna General Hospital but they, too, are struggling to manage their own patients.

Tamanna Tabassum, 8, a second grader of Shipyard area, caught flu was admitted to Khulna Shishu Hospital on November 12. Her younger brother Rakib, 4, fell sick a few days later. Both are undergoing treatment in cabin-206.

Their mother Roksana Begum said, "My daughter suddenly felt cold-related complications. When her condition got worse, we took her to Khulna Shishu Hospital."

Al Amin Rakib, administrative officer of Khulna Shishu Hospital, said all 275 beds and 44 cabins available at the hospital were filled by child patients. "No new patient can be admitted without an empty bed. So, they are going to another hospital," he told

The Daily Star.

In the one week from November 17 to 23, a total of 341 children were admitted to the hospital, and 27 of them were seriously ill, he said. In addition, 582 took treatment at the outdoor section and 2,436 more from the medical officer in the period, he added.

Dr S Ahasan, child specialist at the hospital, said a sudden change in temperature is responsible for the spread of the viral fever, and it takes at least a week to recover.

"Recently there has been an outbreak of the fever, and children are getting increasingly affected," he said. "Parents should not be anxious because it's not a fever in real sense. And one should not take antibiotics after getting affected with this fever."

ATM Monzur Morshed, superintendent of Khulna Medical College Hospital, said not only children, the adult people are also getting affected by the fever. "A sunny day and a cold night make a favourable condition for an outbreak of the fever," he said.

Patients generally have headache and feel nausea when they get the fever, he added, and advised parents to go to doctors and feed liquid food and soup to their children.
