

Season TWELVE

Youth is what lays the foundation of Twelve, a concern of Team Groups. It is a reflection of the zeal and zest of the young population of Bangladesh, as it introduces a myriad of apparels every month of the year, with its unparalleled designs and innovative styles.

This winter, Twelve brings a line of winter-wear, concocted with the glitz and glam of this happening season packed with parties, get-togethers, and of course, weddings. The clichéd "it has something for everybody" seems to stand strong with this brand, for their winter line truly has something designed for just about anyone; men, women, children. Everyone will leave with a bag full of stylish pieces to rock their look all season.

Their Ugly Sweaters will allow you to enjoy the spirits of Christmas the way it's meant to be. Their cream coloured Puff-Sleeve sweaters will make you want to cosy up and feel as though you are floating in the gentle warmth of the sun, while looking exceptionally suave.

Twelve's ethnic wear has been deeply inspired by Bangladesh's colourful and lively culture and environment. The joyous colours of nature have been brought to life in their kameezs, proving to be a staple in get-togethers and parties during winter. In addition, you'll also find their shawls to be constant stunners, as you'll be flaunting them with western and traditional wear; what bliss!
